BULGARIAN ARMY AT THE GATES OF CONSTANTINOPLE

(By United Press.)

London, Eng., Nov. 16.—The bulk of the Sultan's army has been driven backward until it was within 12 miles of Constantinople, according to dispatches from Sofia. The report says the Bulgarians are meeting with little opposition, but the Constantinople version says that a life and death struggle is in progress. It seems clear that the Bulgarians will continue their attack on the capital.

The foreign minister of Servia was quoted as saying that he looked for no armistice until Czar Ferdinand's troops occupied the Turkish capital. This statement seemed to differ from yesterday's report that an armistice had been declared.

From Bucharest comes the news that cholera is breaking out rapidly among the Bulgarian troops since they entered the district where it had been raging violently for days among the Turks. Constantinople admitted that it was growing worse. No effort is being made to fight the disease. The sick are left to recover or die, and little effort is made to bury the dead. The bodies of victims were left above the ground to decay in the path of the advancing Bulgarians.

Austrian Minister Said To Be Missing.

(By United Press.)

Vienna, Austria, Nov. 16.—The foreign office today sent urgent summons to Belgrade for information concerning Austrian Consul Prochaska, who has disappeared, or at any rate, has failed to answer repeated messages. Unless the foreign office speedily hears from him the situation is considered critical. The Austrian government says that when the Servians captured Prisrend they began an immediate massacre of Albanians. Some of the Albanians fled to the Austrian consulate where Prochaska gave them refuge. The Servians surrounded the consulate and threatened to attack it unless the refugees were surrendered.

To Discuss The Fate of Turkey

(By United Press.)

Belgrade, Servia, Nov. 16—The premiers of the Balkan states will meet here Thursday to discuss the sharing of European Turkey. It was said that Czar Ferdinand may attend the conference too.

Turkey Kicks On Peace Terms

(By United Press.)

Constantinople, Turkey, Nov. 16—The Turkish government objected strenuously to the peace terms outlined by the Balkan allies and a counter proposal was sent to Sofia suggesting the surrender to the allies for something less than half of what they demanded. The Sulton expressed his willingness to grant autonomy in Macedonia but he wanted to retain nominal control of it and he was not willing to be driven out of the rest of European Turkey, the internationalization of Constantinople and Salonika and the Bulgarian entrance into his capital.

Alarm In Germany Over Peace Terms

Berlin, Germany, Nov. 16—Tremendous excitement was caused here today over the report that in arranging for European Turkey's partition, the Balkan allies have provided for concessions to the triple extent, England, France and Russia and let the triple alliance, Germany, Austria and Italy out of consideration.

France and Russia are to get commercial advantages in Asia Minor, it was said, and the England Recretan fort of Suda Bay. Government officials would not discuss the report, but it is known that the alliance will promptly veto any such arrangement.

MAYOR GETS OUT OF JAIL

(By Associated Press.)

Little Falls, N. Y., Nov. 16—Mayor Lun, of Schmeckedy, was released from jail this afternoon after he had furnished $100 bond pending the appeal of his case.

DROP BOX OF DYNAMITE, FOUR DEAD

(By United Press.)

West Chester, Pa., Nov. 16—Barney Galligher, and three others, names unknown, were killed and probably 15 men injured when an Italian laborer dropped a box of dynamite at the General Crushed Stone Co.'s quarry today.

The wounded were rushed to the West Chester hospital where it is expected several will die. The quarry was demolished and many of the dead and wounded buried in the debris.

POST OFFICE WAS ROBBED

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 16—Robbers using a sledge broke the safe at the post office at Orient, Franklin county, and got $400 in stamps and $15 in money this morning. The safe had once been blown before and had not been fully repaired.

PACKING PLANT WAS BURNED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16—Fire of unknown origin early today partially destroyed the plant of the Van Camp Packing Company, causing an estimated loss of $100,000. Five hundred people are thrown out of employment. The loss is covered by insurance.

IOWA MAN DIED TODAY

(By United Press.)

Clermont, Iowa., Nov. 16—Former Governor William Larrabee, 83, died here today after a prolonged illness. Larrabee was elected governor in 1887 and was the father of many railroad and anti-corporation measures.

TO BECOME SENATOR

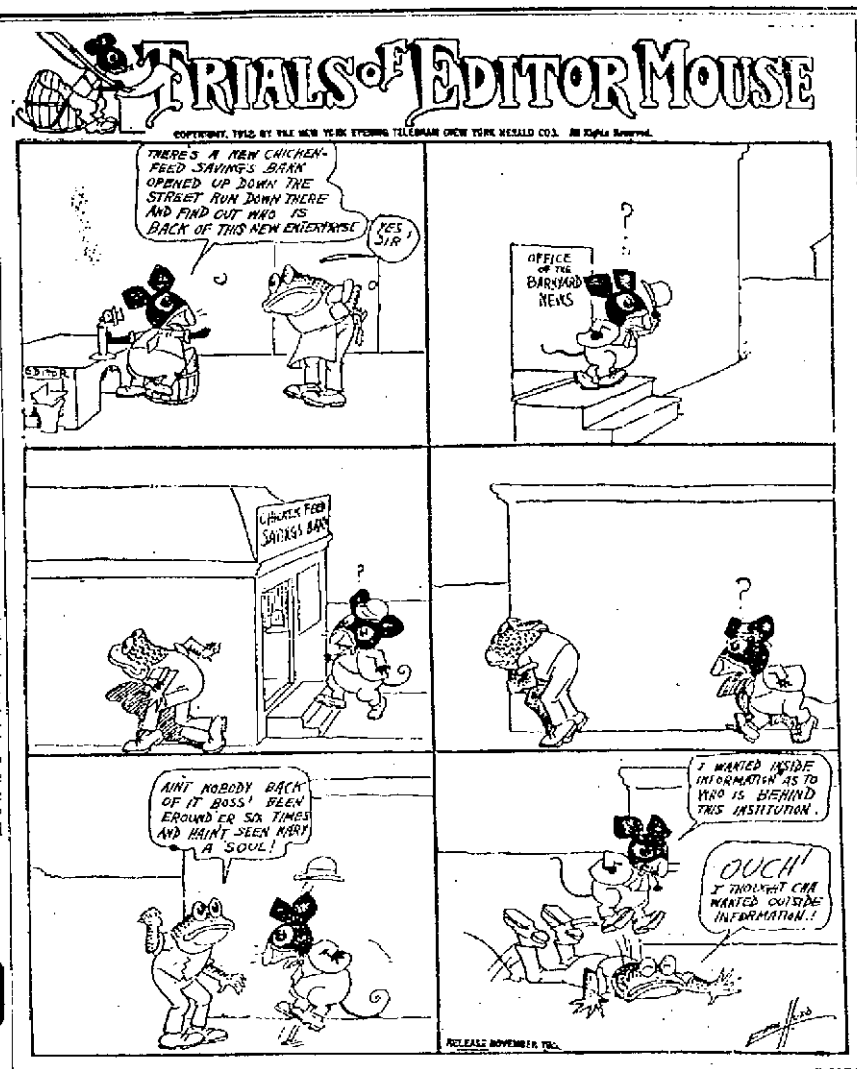
(By United Press.)

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 16—Governor James R. Hawley, Democrat, will become United States senator this afternoon to succeed the late Senator Hayburn. The governor has announced that he will resign today, making Lieutenant Governor Sweetzer, chief executive. Sweetzer's first act will be to appoint Hawley to the senatorship.

M'GHEE IS TO ASSIST

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 16—Attorney General Hogan this afternoon selected his first assistant, Joseph McGhee, to work with Prosecuting Attorney Paisley in probing charges of wholesale vote trafficking in Jefferson county.



BOY'S BODY WAS FOUND IN VAULT

(By United Press.)

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 16—What is expected to prove one of the most mysterious murders in the history of Buffalo was uncovered this afternoon when the body of seven year old Joseph Josephs was dug out of a vault at Lackawanna, seven miles from here. The body had been missing since October 12th. It was believed that he had been kidnapped. His father offered a reward of $1000 for the recovery of his body without avail. Yesterday the father, who conducts a grocery store in Lackawanna, received an unsigned postal card saying that the boy had been murdered and his body thrown into a vault.

The body was found exactly as the card had said. The card was postmarked at Chicago and the writing was made in a cramped hand with every indication that an attempt was made to disguise it.

The boy's body was badly mutilated as one leg, both arms and the head were missing.

John Sowers Death Remains A Mystery

(By Associated Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 16—Although both state and private detectives have been working on the case, not the slightest clue has been found as to the cause of the death of John K. Sowers, 41, prominent lumber dealer, who was found dead in bed with a bullet wound in his head Friday morning.

The theories that he met accidental death, suicide or murder have been traced by the police and detectives but without avail. The private detectives and the police worked on the suicide theory but the family insist on accidental shooting.

Before the coroner's inquiry today Dr. A. G. Helmick, who was first called to the Sowers home, testified that he believed that Mr. Sowers did not meet death by accidental shooting, but that he committed suicide.

"Mr. Sowers was lying in bed when I arrived, in position of repose," said the doctor. "On the pillow at the side of his head was a 38 calibre revolver. There was every evidence that the revolver had been held so as to fire in the temple, and that the hand had naturally dropped."

Miss Zania Fogle, the maid employed at the Sowers home, and the only person in the house at the time of the shooting, testified today that she heard noises as if stamping when she was dressing, and that when she went downstairs she found the back door and a window open and the drawers of the buffet in the dining room out in such a manner as to indicate that robbers had been in the house. She said she made a thorough investigation and found nothing missing. Then she remembered about the noises she heard when dressing and went to Mr. Sowers' room and found him dead.

Coroner Hanes will give his verdict of the shooting Monday.

IS ACCUSED OF ROBBING BIG HOTEL

(By Associated Press.)

Chillicothe, O., Nov. 16—John Chapman, was arrested here this morning and is being held for the Columbus authorities. He is charged with having stolen $1,600 from the Virginia hotel last Tuesday night. His alleged accomplice is said to be in Detroit. Chapman's home is in this city, but he had been employed in Columbus.

MURDERED

(By Associated Press.)

Denison, O., Nov. 16—With a bullet hole in his head, Canby Goodman, 32, a miner, was found dead in the woods at Still water this morning. It is believed he was murdered.

CHINESE ARE URGING WAR WITH RUSSIA

(By United Press.)

Pekin, China, Nov. 16.—President Yuan Shi Kai was deluged with telegrams from prominent Chinese today demanding war on Russia in defense of outer Mongolia. Against the acceptance of the reported offer of the French and Japanese ministers to mediate there was a universal cry. Unless Yuan yields to the popular clamor it is felt that his speedy overthrow may be expected at any time.

It was rumored several generals were planning to lead their commands against the Russians in Mongolia without the president's order or consent.

TOM JONES TO LOSE JOB SAYS RUMOR

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 16—Major Hastings, assistant superintendent of the Mansfield reformatory, stands the best chance of being made warden of the Ohio penitentiary if Governor-elect Cox removes Warden T. H. B. Jones, it was learned today. Supt. Leonard of the reformatory, speaks very highly of Hastings. Rumor says Jones is to lose out with the incoming of Cox.

OPERATE ON LORIMER

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Nov. 16—Surgeons operated upon former Senator William R. Lorimer for appendicitis today. The operation was declared to be entirely successful.

Extra Session Of Congress To Be Called April 15th

New York, Nov. 16—I shall call Congress together in extraordinary session not later than April 15. I shall do this, not only because I think the pledges of the party ought to be redeemed as promptly as possible, but also because I know it to be in the interest of business that all uncertainty as to what the particular items of tariff revision are to be should be removed as soon as possible," said Woodrow Wilson today.

The president-elect took this first important step toward carrying out his pledges to the people when he announced this purpose.

As he issued his statement the president-elect remarked:

"The list of members of Congress and prominent Democrats throughout the country who had expressed themselves on the subject showed that the sentiment in favor of calling an extra session was widespread—I might say, almost unanimous. The extra session will have the advantage of giving us an early start toward effecting the reforms to which the Democratic party is pledged."

The president-elect gave out his statement before embarking on his vacation for two reasons.

First, as declared in his statement, he desired to remove any uncertainty that might be injurious to the business interests of the country.

The second reason was purely selfish, as he himself remarked. He wants to spend his vacation in quiet and peace. He realized, he said, that unless the question was settled at this time he would be besieged continually for a definite statement on the subject.

Clark and Bryan Both Approve

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 16—Both Speaker Champ Clark and William J. Bryan today expressed themselves as officially approving Governor Wilson's declaration that he will call an extra session of congress in April. "I think that both his conclusion and reasons are sound," declared Mr. Bryan today. "I held that the tariff is the principal question before the people now for discussion by congress. I see no reason, however, why other important matters should not be considered at the same time."

Wilson Sails For The Bermudas

(By United Press.)

New York, Nov. 16—President Taft and President-elect Wilson spent considerable time in New York today but they did not meet. President-elect Wilson had nothing to add to his brief declaration last night that he will call an extra session of congress about April 15th. Matters to be included in the call will be considered later. He sailed today for a month's vacation at Bermuda Island.

PRINCETON MET YALE

(By Associated Press.)

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 16—Princeton and Yale foot ball teams battled for supremacy on the local gridiron this afternoon. The outcome will determine which team will be left in the race for the championship this season. Should Yale come out on top Princeton will be out of the running. Each team has now three games to its credit.

CARMI WAS GIVEN JOB

(By United Press.)

Washington, November 16—Secretary of the Treasury McVeagh today announced that Carmi Thompson, of Ironton, now secretary to the president, would be sworn in as United States treasurer next Tuesday, vice Lee McClung, resigned.

SHOT DOWN HIS WIFE, THEN SHOT HIMSELF

(By United Press.)

Mt. Vernon, O., Nov. 16—W. D. MaGill, 47, school teacher, shot and instantly killed his wife as she slept at 6 o'clock this morning at her home here. The shot gun load blew off the woman's head. MaGill then went into an adjoining room and fired a bullet into his own head. The lower right side of his face was torn away and he will die.

Insanity due to brooding over his failure to get the nomination for county treasurer at the spring primaries is believed to have caused the act. Shortly after the pri- maries MaGill, then a widower, married Mrs. Iola Taylor, a divorcee with one daughter.

Mrs. MaGill had vainly tried to dispel his brooding over his failure to secure the nomination. A son, suffering from tonsilitis, saw his father shoot himself, but was too weak to prevent the deed.

Major Geo. Wood Is New Adjt. General

(By United Press.)

Dayton, O., Nov. 16—Major George H. Wood of the Third Regiment, Ohio National Guards, will be appointed adjutant general of Ohio, according to announcement made this afternoon by governor-elect James M. Cox.

Major Wood will succeed Adjutant General Chas. C. Weybrecht, who held the office throughout the Harmon administration.

Found Guilty Of Tarring Woman

(By Associated Press.)

Norwalk, O., Nov. 16—Counsel for Ernest Clark, who was found guilty last night of assault and battery in connection with the tarring at West Clarksfield of Miss Minnie Lavalley, today appealed his case. The Lavalley girl cried when she heard that he was found guilty.

"We used to be sweethearts," she said, "and I do not want him to be sent to prison."

MISS FARLEY TO GO ON THE STAND

(By Associated Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 16—Taking advantage of the day's recess in her trial for first degree murder for the killing of Alvin E. Zollinger, Miss Cecelia Farley spent today with her attorneys, preparing the testimony she will give when she is called to the stand next week. She will probably testify that Zollinger met accidental death while struggling for the possession of the revolver with her.

Monday will be given over to the examination of character witnesses for the defense. Miss Farley will probably take the stand in her own behalf on Tuesday.

WOMAN'S BODY EXHUMED AND EXAMINED

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 16—Until the Clark county grand jury hears the report of the chemist, Prof. C. C. Howard, who analyzed the contents of the stomach of Mrs. Arthur Smith, of Springfield, no arrest will be made, said Prosecutor Lawrence Laybourne today. Mrs. Smith, wife of Dr. A. B. Smith, died suddenly last March. At the instance of relatives Prosecutor Laybourne ordered the body exhumed and examined. Dr. Smith married a hospital nurse shortly after his wife died.

BLAKE.

SEN. RAYNOR VERY LOW

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 16—Senator Isador Raynor, of Maryland, remains in a critical condition today. There was no marked change apparent in his condition this morning.

Some fellow said: "Life's just one derned thing after another," and didn't he hit the nail on the head? Here we go thinking everything is lovely and all at once bing! And away goes our peace and contentment. About the only thing you can be dead sure of in this world is that the man you do the most for in politics will be the first to abuse you and that your dog will always stick by you. Isn't it so?

"Graustark" Draws The Banner Crowd

The frescoing had to be taken off the walls of the Grand, Saturday afternoon, to permit all who wished to see "Graustark," as the "additional' room was imeprntive as fully 1,600 people stormed the playhouse. It was by several rods, the biggest matinee in the history of the Grand.

When the curtain went up there were 300 women and children in the gallery. The popular McCutcheon novel is being dramatized by a splendid company and the performance will be repeated tonight. Over 1,500 persons witnessed the matinee.

IS SURE MARRYING SQUIRE

'Squire Byron broke all marriage records this week by launching six matrimonial crafts. Friday night he tied the knot that made John W. Copas and Miss Mary Jane McClary man and wife. Saturday morning two Kentucky couples were united in wedlock, when Chas. Elam and Miss Mary Stone and Jas. Bentley and Miss Mary E. Brown appeared before the 'Squire to take the solemn oath.

Buggy Was Hit By Motorcycle

In taking a spin around the boulevard Friday night, Homer Brunton sent his motorcycle crashing into a horse and buggy, as the result of his machine skidding. The collision caused the horse to become frightened and run away, badly battering the buggy and throwing the driver on his head. The driver of the vehicle, whose name could not be learned, was doubtless asleep or under the influence of liquor, as when he recovered from the fall he remarked that he had been sleeping some time.

Both Brunton and "Frenchy" Thirre, who were riding the machine, were badly shaken up in falling off the machine. Brunton attributes the accident to the refusal of the fellow driving the vehicle to give him enough room to pass without crowding his machine.

Anson Jones Gets Divorce From Wife

Judge Blair late Saturday granted a divorce decree to Anson Jones on the grounds of gross neglect of duty, and he was also given the custody of their young son, William.

When the court announced his decision, Mr. Jones and his ex-wife, who was formerly Miss Florence Horn, much to the surprise of all in the court room, embraced each other and sobbed bitterly.

PLAYED JOKE ON JIMMY

Jimmy Alspaugh was the victim of some practical jokers Friday night. Jimmy was routed out of bed at 1 o'clock by a telephone call. A voice at the other end said: "This is long distance; some lady at Huntington wants to talk to you on the Bell line." Now, Jim has no Bell phone at home and so get dressed and walked all the way down to police headquarters only to learn that no one had called him from Huntington. It leaked out Saturday that three local young women had framed up the trick on Jim and now they are worrying for fear he will even matters in some other way.

JUDGE BLAIR SUSTAINED DEMURRER

Judge Blair Saturday sustained the demurrer of the defendants in the case of Nelson W. Evans, on behalf of the city of Portsmouth, against the Board of Control and the Gamewell Fire and Police Telegraph Company, dismissing the petition on the grounds that the plaintiff has not a legal capacity to sue; that there is a defect of parties defendant and that the petition does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

This is the celebrated fire alarm case and this is the third time that the defendants have succeeded in knocking out the petition of the plaintiffs.

C. & O. Ry. To Move Office

It was learned definitely Saturday that the C. & O. would move its down-town passenger office to the corner room in the Turley building, soon to be vacated by the First National bank. A new front is to be placed in the room, the work to be supervised by Devoss and Patterson.

Herbert Gray, indicted by the recent grand jury for non-support, was released Saturday by Judge Blair on his own recognizance, after continuing the case off the docket. The court investigated the case and found that the wife was as much to blame as the husband. Gray has been working in Columbus and she refused to go there, preferring to stay with her parents.

A pitiful case of poverty was brought to the attention of the Associated Charities Saturday when Mrs. Alex Givins and her three children were found occupying a hayloft on Robinson avenue, where they were permitted by the owner to go for shelter. The stove pipe was run through a hole in the roof and the fire chief ordered it taken down on account of the danger of it causing a fire.

The family were taken care of by the association. The woman was married to Alex Givins some 28 years ago and reared a family of nine children. Two years ago Givins deserted his family and is said now to be living near St. Paul, Ky.

A hearing of the application of creditors of Evans Bros., defunct Blue Creek grocers, for a new appraisement of the estate of P. C. Evans was heard before Referee in Bankruptcy Mark A. John Joseph, of the United States Laundry, and J. E. Watts, of the N. & W., left Saturday for a two weeks' hunt in Virginia.

Mrs. John Lange, of Second street, has been quite ill for the past few days.

A new dwelling and store room are being erected on the Andy Smith' property at Bertha. The store room is to be only one story in height, but more commodious than the former room. The dwelling is being constructed apart from the store room, on the hill, in the rear of the store.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Louisa Bengel.

Mrs. Louisa Bengel, widow of John Bengel, deceased, passed away at her home Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock, with six daughters and other loved ones at her bedside. Death followed a nine weeks' illness with a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Bengel was born in 1835 in Denzen, Germany, and came to Portsmouth in 1854, where she was united in marriage with John Bengel. The following 25 years of their married life was spent in Pomeroy, O., after which they, with their family, returned to Portsmouth, where they since resided. Thirteen children were born to this union, ten of whom survive: Misses Mary and Carrie, at home; Mrs. Fred Kemmerer, Mrs. Sara Little and Mrs. George Reinhardt, of this city, and Mrs. J. M. Hammer, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Charles E. Brown, Denver, Colo.; John Bengel, Spokane, Wash.; Henry Bengel, Jackson, Mich.; Daniel Bengel, St. Louis, Mo.

One brother, Mr. N. Yeager, of Pomeroy, O., the last of seven children, survives. The last sister, Mrs. Catherine Harper, of Columbus, O., passed away last February.

Mrs. Bengel was a faithful member of the German M. E. church of this city, where her beautiful Christian life and character was felt by all. She was always cheerful and had a kind word for everyone.

Funeral services will be held at the late residence, 724 Third street Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with burial in Greenlawn. Rev. F. J. Baumann will have charge of the services.

Fred Agee.

Word was received here Saturday of the death near Charleston, W. Va., of Fred Agee, aged 65, father of George V. Agee, an N. & W. engineer, of No. 1607 Grandview avenue. He was a farmer by occupation, and had been ill for some time past. Mr. Agee went to South Webster Friday, and is not yet aware of his father's death, for efforts to locate him were unsuccessful up to Saturday noon.

Mamie J. Coburn.

Mamie Josephine, the 3-year-old daughter of James Coburn, an Odle creek farmer, died Thursday night of untreated diphtheria. The child had been ill for a week before physicians were called and died 30 minutes before they reached the house. Another child of the family is suffering with sore throat, but the physicians say it does not seem to be diphtheria.

Wm. Linkous Funeral

The funeral services of William Linkous will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home near Wheelersburg.

Frank Pearl

Frank Pearl, the sixteen year old son of Mr. Robert Pearl, of White Gravel, Madison township, died early Saturday morning after a lingering illness with tuberculosis. The funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. by Rev. Mr. Cush. The remains will be interred in White Gravel cemetery.

The young boy leaves his father, two brothers and one sister to mourn his death. He was the youngest of the family. His mother died several years ago.

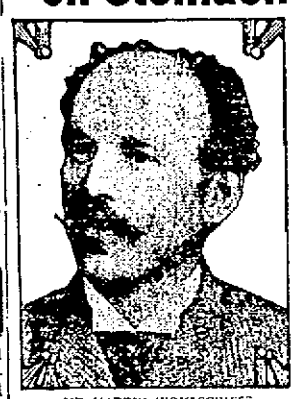
"Worked Like a Miracle on Stomach and Nerves"



MR. MARTIN WOHLSCHIESS

Before Mr. M. Wohlschiess started using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey his stomach was all out of order and his nerves shattered, troubles that were quickly checked.

"For two years I suffered from my stomach and nervous trouble. My digestive organs were all out of order, and all that I spent for relief was thrown away. I read about Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, tried it, taking four doses a day, and, like a miracle, within a very short time my ailments disappeared. My nerves are now quiet, and my stomach can retain all food, and I am again in good condition. I recommend it to every sick person."—Martin Wohlschiess, Neshamery P. O., Bucks County, Pa.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

WHAT IT IS—WHAT IT DOES

It is an absolutely pure distillation of clean, selected grain thoroughly malted. It is a predigested liquid food in the form of a medicinal whiskey, and can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

By assisting digestion and assimilation, it enables you to get from the food you eat all the nourishment it contains. It builds up the nerve tissues, tones up the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood.

CONFESSED TO MURDER OF GEO. WAUGHAMAN

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 16.—The mysterious murder of George E. Waughaman, a hoisting engineer of Scioto ville, Ohio, was added today to the long list of crimes which have been confessed by Don Kaiser, a 16-year-old boy of Newtown. Though he charged that his elder companion fired the fatal shot, young Kaiser admitted that he, too, had a gun and was on a mission to rob some one at the time the muder was committed.

Waughaman was killed near Clare station on September 24, 1912, and he was walking along the N. & W. railway tracks. At the time the murder was committed it was charged that two colored men were responsible. One was described as being much shorter than the other. The Kaiser boy is about five feet tall and his companion, who is 19 years of age, is about five feet ten inches in height. Both boys were badly tanned and both have dark complexions.

The confession of the murder by the Kaiser boy came almost simultaneously with an attempt on the part of Attorney A. J. McNair, of Newtown, to secure the release of the other youth, Owen Marritt, who Sheriff Cooper declares was about to make a confession. An effort to secure his release on a writ of habeas corpus failed, and the boy spent last night in the county jail, in default of $20,000 bail, which was asked by Magistrate Dempsey when informed of the murder story told by Kaiser.

The Kaiser boy told his story in a matter-of-fact way. His confession fits the circumstances of the case as they were known to Sheriff Cooper. The last was in the midst of a long recital, in which he added to his previous confession, details of arson committed and numerous thefts, when suddenly Sheriff Cooper remarked: "There was a man killed out your way not long ago, near Clare station; do you know anything about that?"

With little hesitation the boy answered: "Yes, but I did not shoot him." A few more questions brought out many details of the case. The boy named Marritt, who Kaiser has charged was his companion in many crimes, also was his associate on the night of September 24, when Waughaman was slain.

"We knew it was pay day," Kaiser said, "and we wanted to rob some one. We both had revolvers. Shortly after we left Newtown we started down the track. We thought we saw two fellows, and we hollered: 'Throw up your hands.' Then we saw there was more than two. My friend fired and then we ran down the bank and through the weeds to the bridge, and then back to our homes in Newtown. My friend only said: 'I know'd I'd get him.'"

Sheriff Cooper questioned the lad at length, but he stuck to his confession and supplied every detail. Prosecutor Pogue will interview the boy and make a record of his story.

On the night of the murder near Clare station Waughaman was with two companions, Charles Cooper, a laborer employed by the N. & W. railroad, and Hiram Rousch, of Ashland, Ky. Both Cooper and Rousch testified before Coroner Coe that but one shot was fired and that the taller bandit did the shooting.

WOMEN SHOULD BE PROTECTED

Against So Many Surgical Operations. How Mrs. Bethune and Mrs. Moore Escaped.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Murrayville, Ill.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a very bad case of female trouble and it made me a well woman. My health was all broken down, the doctors said I must have an operation, and I was ready to go to the hospital, but dreaded it so that I began taking your Compound. I got along so well that I gave up the doctors and was saved from the operation."—Mrs. CHARLES MOORE, R. R. No. 2, Murrayville, Ill.

Either One, of Course

Of course, we give either numeral or decimal punctuation in the printing of figures. You may not want an adding machine to handle dollars and cents. You, therefore, want it punctuated in a different fashion.

Of course, the Burroughs way is always a bit in advance of the actual requirements. That implies "wise anticipation," which is one of the principles of scientific management.

We give a combination of numeral and decimal punctuation in the same machine. A new idea, of course, but it is one that is used a great deal in practice.

WAGON WAS BUMPED BY STREET CAR

A street car, in charge of Motorman Ed Beebe and Conductor Al Kehoe, coming south on Chillicothe street Saturday afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock, ran into the rear end of a wagon driven by a mule team, driven by E. B. Arnett. The accident occurred in front of the Otto Zoellner & Bro. jewelry store and was witnessed by a large number of citizens.

When the car crashed into the wagon Mr. Arnett was jolted from the seat and claimed that his side was painfully bruised by the fall.

The street car employes claim that the team of mules backed onto the car tracks too late for them to avoid a collision. Practically no damage was done to the wagon.

Mr. Arnett is a Greenup county resident and came to Portsmouth Saturday to purchase a supply of groceries.

INJUNCTION GRANTED

Judge Blair Saturday granted an injunction in the case of Richard and Mary Wells against the board of county commissioners and George White, instituted in common pleas court Saturday by Attorneys Holcomb and Millar, enjoining the defendants from changing the route of a certain road as viewed originally.

In their petition the plaintiffs complain that a road, called the Fallen Timber road, was located across their lands in Madison township in such a manner that it crossed a bend in a certain creek, and thereby re-crossed the creek twice within a short distance. Now he charges that the defendants, without having a review or re-survey, are obstructing the channel of the creek and are changing same so as to put and locate the creek where the road was located, and the road where the creek was located.

The plaintiffs declare that the change in the creek will cause their low ground to overflow and do them great damage.

Work on the improvement has been held up pending a hearing on the matter.

Circuit Court Reverses 3 of Blair's Findings

Seven out of ten cases decided by the circuit court Saturday, when it convened to render decrees in the cases heard during the November session, are affirmed. In the other three cases the lower court is reversed, and of these, one is remanded for trial. This is the case of William E. Tripp, plaintiff in error, against William F. Steinhauer, defendant in error. In this case Steinhauer sued Tripp for $10,000 damages for alleged alienation of the affections of his wife, Jessie Steinhauer, charging the defendant with having debauched and carnally knowing her. The defense contended that the woman was of bad repute and a common prostitute and had no affection for her husband.

The case went to trial in Judge Blair's court on the issues and evidence and the jury awarded the plaintiff $1,000 damages.

A majority of the reviewing court held that Judge Blair erred in excluding a part of the evidence of Mason Roman, in which the witness stated that Mrs. Steinhauer had declared to him that she had no affection for her husband and the only one she loved was Ed. Kirk.

Judge Walters, who delivered the opinion, dissented and from his view, he held that this little bit of evidence was not prejudicial and material and that it did not influence the jury in arriving at their verdict, which he said, in his opinion, was reasonable.

The following are the other cases decided:

By Judge Jones: Theodore Schimpf against the City of Portsmouth. Error. Judgment of lower court affirmed and remanded for execution. Schimpf sued to recover wages for the time he was illegally suspended as a city fireman.

By Judge Sayre: Buckeye Fire Brick and Clay Company against D. E. Spangler. Error. Judgment affirmed without penalty. In the original suit Spangler sued to recover dividends declared on 53 shares of stock in the defendant company, at the time of the declaration, but sold the stock before the dividends were paid. The reviewing court decided he was entitled to the dividends.

By Judge Walters: Mark A. Crawford, as guardian of Cornelius Foster, plaintiff in error, against George L. Davis, county treasurer, defendant in error. Reversed because of weight of evidence and remanded for new trial. The treasurer sued for $140 taxes on property added to the duplicate by the board of review. The reviewing court held that the increase was added without due or proper notice being given the taxpayer, and that Judge Blair erred in placing the amount on the duplicate.

By Judge Jones: Charles Martindale against Frank Turner and other. Error. Judgment affirmed and remanded for execution. The case received solely on the construction of the will of the late William Turner, deceased, under the terms of which Albert Turner, as trustee, was devised $4,000 to hold in trust toward the support and maintenance of the decedent's son, Frank. Martindale secured a judgment of $218 against Frank Turner before a justice of the peace, for a debt. The reviewing court held that this vested interest or trust fund to Frank is not liable to the payment of his debts.

By Judge Sayre: Amelin Lesler against the N. & W. Railway Company. Error. Judgment affirmed. The plaintiff brought suit for damages for personal injuries sustained by her son, Harry, 18, while he was riding a freight train. The reviewing court held that the boy was a trespasser and that the defendant owed him no duty, therefore was not liable for damages.

By Judge Walters: Haas Clothing Company against Augusta Haldeman. Error. Judgment affirmed without penalty. The issue was the construction of the terms of a lease in which the point was raised as to which party should pay the taxes on the property at Fifth and Chillicothe streets, covered by the lease. The plaintiff below paid the taxes and then brought suit to recover the amount. The court held that the Haas Company must pay all assessments and taxes charged to the property and payable during the time of the lease.

By Judge Jones: John R. Hughes against John W. Stealley and others. Appeal. Finding and decree for defendant. Special findings as to one branch of the case. The suit was brought to set aside a deed to property executed by John F. Stealley to his father, Frederick J. Stealley, in 1898.

By Judge Sayre: William Bender against William Clark. Error. Judgment reversed because the verdict is against the law and a judgment given by the reviewing court for Bender. Clark sued for $450 damages for alleged breach of contract in connection with the sale of a blacksmith business, claiming that Bender agreed to refrain from engaging in business again.

In the case of The Portsmouth Brewing and Ice Company against John Dihlman, involving the possession of a business room, now occupied by the Henkel saloon on Findlay street, the court announced would be held open for the attorneys to file briefs.

YOUNG LADIES WRITE DR. HARTMAN

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.

In my answer to correspondents, published recently, one was to a young lady who had written me concerning pimples and blackheads that were spoiling her complexion. I undertook to give this young lady some advice, concealing her name of course.

The publication of my advice on this subject has brought me a shower of letters from young ladies. I had no idea there were so many young ladies afflicted in this way. In spite of all the advertised remedies for pimples and lauded preparations to produce clear skin and splendid complexion, in spite of all this it seems there are a large number of young ladies who are haggardly anxious about their complexions. I thought perhaps a short talk from me on this subject might be a good thing.

Of course I will be suspected of wishing only to sell my medicine, and to recommend Peruna for such cases. In spite of this, however, I am going to recommend Peruna for pimples and blackheads. Let me tell you why.

The bowels when they are healthy contain no poisonous material. Long before the poisons can generate the contents of the bowels are discharged, provided they are in ordinary activity. But constipation will dam up the contents of the bowels and retain them so long that they decompose and furnish poisonous gas and fluids. These poisons are absorbed by the blood vessels in the bowels and taken into the system. The result is pimples and blackheads and other disfigurements of the complexion. Young ladies especially are subject to constipation. I think I should not be wide of the truth if I should say that one-half of the young ladies of this country suffer from constipation.

Now I wish to say that Peruna will regulate the bowels. It will stimulate the excretory organs. Peruna will clear the complexion simply because it takes away the offending poisonous materials which cause pimples, blotches, spots on the skin, roughness of the skin, warts, moles and the like. I make no apology and have no hesitation in saying to the public that Peruna taken according to directions on the bottle will do more towards beautifying the complexions of our young ladies than all the applications that can be made to the skin. All the facial massage and treatments that have ever been invented never will do these cases so much good as Peruna, except some other medicine which is made on similar lines.

I do not claim that Peruna is the only medicine that will prevent absorption of poisons from the bowels. But I do claim that it is one of the medicines that will do this—a reliable one—an old and trusted one—one that has stood the test of years—one that is lauded by thousands of people who have tried it.

So then, young ladies, if you want clear skins, free from pimples, take Peruna. This is the advice of an old, experienced physician who admires young ladies in a fatherly way, who is acquainted with scores of them. What I am telling you in this article I have told my own family, my own children and grandchildren many times, and the numerous acquaintances with whom I daily associate.

Peruna, Manalin and Lacupia manufactured by the Peruna Company, Columbus, Ohio. Sold at all drug stores.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Many persons are making inquiries for the old-time Peruna. To such would say, this formula is now put out under the name of RA-TAR-NO, manufactured by RA-TAR-NO Company, Columbus, Ohio. Write them and they will be pleased to send you a free booklet.

For Women Who Care

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best.

Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

Paxtine ANTISEPTIC

In the toilet—to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and bridgework clean and odorless. To remove nicotine from the teeth and purify the breath after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. Also for nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes, cuts and wounds. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents a box. Trial box and testimony of 31 women free on request.

JURY NAMED FOR DAMAGE CASE

At the instance of Judge Beatty, the clerk and deputy sheriff drew a venire of sixteen men to serve as jurors in the case of The Portsmouth Street Railway and Light Company against William and Mary Frazel, which will come to trial in the probate court on November 21.

The suit is an action in condemnation in which the plaintiff is seeking to acquire a right of way for their street car line through the lands of the defendants near Scioto ville.

The persons drawn for jury service in the case are given below: Carl A. Spreeker, city; J. E. Blackburn, Brush Creek; J. F. Menke, city; Frank Swearingen, Nile township; Earl Purcell, city; William E. Wallace, Harden; W. R. Fee, city; G. G. Chinn, city; Harry Flowers, city; T. J. Pyle, Clay township; Adam Pfau, city; Harry Johnson, city; Roy C. Lynn, city; W. H. Burt, city; John T. Breece, city, and Andrew Smith, Washington township.

George Zeiser, bookkeeper at the Portsmouth Brewery office, put in the whole afternoon on the West Side without firing a single shot or seeing as much as a glimpse of a quail.

Mrs. Robert Kyle and baby son arrived home last night from a three weeks' visit in London, Ohio, with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Jackson.

WATCHMAN, WHAT OF THE NIGHT?

Before the election predictions were freely made that the choice of Woodrow Wilson as president would mean ruin to industries and disaster to the country.

These forefodings of evil became noisier and more vehement as the campaign came to a close. Doubtless many voters, not appreciating the selfish and partisan motives that lay behind these, were convicted of their probability, and so acted.

This makes it well to inquire what has been the result with the actual coming of the foretold calamity.

Woodrow Wilson has been elected just one week. His success is more sweeping than was thought possible, since both congress and senate were carried by Democrats along with him, and thus all the active and creative powers of government passed into their hands.

Has wreck come to industry and paralysis to the country? Let us see as to that.

The greatest authorities on the conditions of business and the state of the country are Bradstreet's and Dunn's commercial agencies. Here is what each has to say:

"Business confidence survives the unprecedented political struggle unperturbed, and the outlook is made brighter by more favorable developments in the general commercial activities, transportation and agriculture. Never before yesterday's official figures have the harvests been shown so immense, and there naturally must follow a period of prosperity, not only national in its scope but also directly stimulating the producing and distributive interests to increased efforts. November payments through the banks have maintained a high level, and the volumes of clearings exhibits substantial increase over a year ago. The pressure of settlement has developed a moderate list of trading defaults, and the discount market maintains firmness on large outgo of currency to move crops and broader demands for funds needed in manufacturing, construction and jobbing. Investment inquiring and the prospects for new enterprise gather additional encouragement, although there is no immediate prospect of easier money rates. New demands for crude and finished outputs maintain improved volume, and the assured season of forward work projects farther into next year, especially in iron and steel, metal working motive power and equipment."

"With the Balkan situation less menacing to world peace, though still serious and with the uncertainties of the national election at an end, the business outlook is improved.

"This is reflected in the increased buoyancy of the financial markets and in the continued expansion of trade and industry. A situation that is based upon an unprecedented movement of wheat and a record-breaking production of pig iron can be described by no other word than prosperous. Every department of business experiences the uplift and expansion which result, first, from the tremendous crops, and second, from the restored confidence and credit.

"The buying movement by railroads, already referred to, has been accelerated by the fact that takers of equipment are expected to advance their prices in the near future.

"The dry goods trade, both in cotton and woolens, is active and strong, and while there is some check to retail distribution, due to the weather, the prospect is for Christmas trading on a scale never before reached.

"The shoe trade is also active. Leather and hides continue very strong. Building supplies are in active demand. The paper trade continues to improve. There is a steady demand for bituminous and anthracite coal."

These agencies are not talking for political effect, but recounting conditions and prospects as their reliable sources of information convince them are correct.

So it is apparent business has not been hurt and the country is not menaced by Democratic success, for if such were the case, harmful effect would appear at once and there would be no increased activity and buoyant promise of improvement.

WHY PICK OUT SCIOTO?

The Waverly Democrat seems disposed to lay the defeat of Charles M. Caldwell, of its county, and the Democratic candidate for congress upon Scioto county.

It complains, that if the gentleman had got the majority down here expected, he would have been elected. Not knowing what was expected, we can not dispute with the Democrat, but Caldwell was assured he could look for a reduction of about 1,500 in the Republican vote of 1908. As a matter of fact, the actual reduction was 1,411, not such a shortage, and showing a remarkably accurate judgment of the situation.

Mr. Caldwell made a good fight of it, and it was not his fault he did not win. We do not see, though, why his home paper should put the particular blame for his defeat upon Scioto. She did nobly by him, and much better than his home county.

In 1908 Taft carried Scioto over Bryan by 1,480, and in the same year Bryan carried Pike over Taft by 287. Mr. Caldwell lost Scioto by only 69 votes, he carried Pike by 438. In other words, down here we cut the majority against him by 1,411, 91 per cent., while up there they gave him a gain of 151, 51 per cent. Apparently, more than 700 Scioto county Republicans voted for him, while only 75 Pike Republicans did the same thing.

DOLLAR FARMING No. 6

We all hate the loafer—don't we? The help that works only while we are around—when he gets at the end of the row, where you don't see him, he chews straws, looks at the sky, thinks about nothing plus nothing. You can't watch him all the time any more than you can watch your dollars all the time. The house-kept dollar is a loafer—an unprofitable servant. IT MEANS MUCH TO ALL

Strange how interest in politics overshadows everything else.

Here we have all been as partisans, either rejoicing or repining over the turn of a few county offices, and yet November 5 was a real red letter day to Scioto county, a day that marked a turn in her fortunes and set her on the way to that prosperity and improvement which is her deserved portion.

We refer, of course, to the quite unanimous vote by which the commissioners were authorized to lay an additional levy of two mills for road and bridge purposes.

It is to be believed from the quickened interest the people are taking in good roads and the activity many of the most substantial citizens are showing in the matter, that the funds now to be placed at the disposal of the commissioners will be so beneficially applied, that in time Scioto county will have highways which are a credit to her instead of a reproach, and be the means of a development in which she has too long lagged.

WE WOULD IF WE COULD

The complexion of the Illinois legislature is not yet determined.

So far as reports go, the four or five Bull Moosers elected appear to hold the balance of power as between the two old parties. Upon whether they are Democratic Bull Moosers or Bull Mouse Republicans depends the political line of two United States senators.

What a pity that one strong Democratic state can't help out a weaker sister. Here in Ohio, with no senator at all to elect, we have such an overwhelming legislative majority that we could easily spare half of it to Illinois and still have sufficient and plenty for all purposes.

MAKES A GOOD START

The announcement of Herbert Bigelow, that he will not be a candidate for speaker of the house, puts a quietus on a rumor prevalent throughout the state, that he was "Cox's man" and the governor-elect would "put him over."

Bigelow is an able man. There is no other member better qualified for the position than he, but for reasons that are not clear, rather violent opposition sprang up against him, making it only too evident that much bitterness and antagonism would follow his selection and ultimately involve the entire state administration. Possibly, he saw the storm gathering and withdrew from the contest rather than be charged with its unpleasant result. Anyway, he does a man's part in abandoning all chance of a high honor that seemed well within his grasp, and certainly helps the new regime, of which so much is expected, to a fair and auspicious start.

MEETS POPULAR APPROVAL

Once in awhile at least the fulminations of these columns strike a popular chord.

An instance was the article on the action of the board of education in debarring the pupils from entering the high school at the front. Many citizens have not only approved the criticism, but have even abjured The Times to keep it up.

We cannot believe there is any necessity for further comment. With its attention called to the order, it may be taken that the board will realize how preposterous it is and rescind it.

GETTING TOGETHER

There can be no question among those in attendance that the board of trade banquet, Thursday evening, was an unqualified success. This is an opinion expressed of every such meeting, but in this the verdict rings true. The speeches were uncommonly bright and snappy, and there was a spontaneity in the display of good fellowship that left no doubt as to its genuineness.

We ought to have such gatherings more frequently. They would help our citizenship to know and appreciate itself more highly and more effectively, and from that would flow a civic spirit of confidence and rivalry that would far promote the progress and fame of Peerless Portsmouth, the best town in the state today and destined to be one of the biggest and best cities on the river.

EVERY ONE COUNTS

The experience in California ought to be a lesson of diligence in citizenship to all those indifferent ones, who stay away from the polls on the pretext that one vote doesn't count.

On the returns this state has been playing a game of shuttlecock between Wilson and Roosevelt. One day one was ahead by a few votes and the next day the other led by a scant vote. According to the last report, Roosevelt led by 69, but a few small Democratic precincts out were likely to give the state to Wilson.

Either way, the margin is going to be an exceedingly narrow one, so narrow that the stay-at-home vote could have overturned it a thousand times, even the indifferent voters of almost any county could have reversed it.

The most powerfully instructive feature is, however, that had the national result been so close as to depend upon California, the whole country would now be resounding with cries of fraud and a bitter clash would be arising, that would seriously menace the peace of the nation. All of which there could be no possible occasion for should every voter exercise his suffrage.

AS THE WIND BLOWS

Straws are said to show which way the wind blows.

If that be true, then may we say that the election of Wilson, so far from being the blow to labor as the doleful ante-election predictions warned, is going to be altogether to the profit of the workingman.

Monday, tens of thousands of steel workers were given an increase in wages in response to long continued demands.

A little more of that scare-crow business hung up and Taft wouldn't have carried a township. As it was, he came mighty near to not carrying a state. The American people will stand for almost anything, except being played for fools.

The president-elect declares he is going to some place where he can be alone and think it over. He must forget newspaper reporters are still alive, and their legs are in good running order.

California is still in the doubtful column. She had better stop her foolishness and come into the union.

Taft has just said he did not expect it. He is about the only Republican on earth that didn't.

Mr. Wilson seems to have stopped speculation as to the personnel of his cabinet.

CZAR OF RUSSIA AND HIS SON

This photo was taken only a few weeks before the young czarevitch was taken sick. It is the only recent portrait showing the czar and his son.

The A. I. U. Lodge Is After A New Hall

An effort on the part of the members of the local A. I. U. to secure a hall on the top floor of the new building being erected by Irving Drew for the Hibbs Hardware Co. has proven unsuccessful. The application was made to Mr. Drew too late for him to alter the plans of the building. Another floor added to the structure would entail an extra expense which the addition would not warrant.

Owing to the rapidity with which the A. I. U. is increasing its membership, new quarters are imperative. A committee has been appointed to negotiate for the rental of a large hall and several options have been taken on suitable rooms.

JOHNSON TRYING TO SETTLE UP

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Nov. 16—Jack Johnson, champion pugilist of the world, visited United States District Attorney James H. Wilkerson this afternoon in person in an effort to affect a settlement in Judge Landis' court. It is said he was unsuccessful in reaching an agreement whereby he could settle the case against him under the Mann white slave law by pleading guilty and paying a big fine.

Wanted To Blow Up Girl Stenographer

(By Associated Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16—The flight of Jas. B. McNamara from Los Angeles after he blew up the Times building and killed 21 persons, on October 1, 1910, his expressed hope that the explosion would be attributed to escaping gas in the basement and his reported purpose to murder a woman stenographer employed by the iron workers' union because "she knew too much" were related today by Frank Eckhoff, of Cincinnati, a friend and former neighbor of the McNamara family.

He said that two weeks after the explosion he was sent by J. J. to the home of his sister, Mrs. Alice Nalb in Ballagh, Neb.

"I met James there," said Eckhoff. "He had disguised himself as much as possible. He appeared desperate and wanted some one to kill him. One thing he wanted done was to kill Miss Mary C. Dye, stenographer at union headquarters at Indianapolis. He said she knew too much about dynamiters. He proposed that we talk to John J. about it. He said it would be a good idea for me to follow her on the train and put a small bomb under her and to time it so that I would have time to get off the train."

SOLDIERS ARE ON DUTY IN MINE REGION

(By United Press.)
Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 16—Following last night's action of strikers in the Kanawha district in stopping a train carrying mail and detaching two cars carrying strike breakers to this city, the C. & O. is contemplating a request that federal troops be sent into the district. The holdup is similar to the one which led President Cleveland to send troops into Chicago during the Pullman strike there.

State militia have been sent back into the striking district.

(By United Press.)
Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 16—Determined to put an end to lawlessness which has developed in the Paint and Cabin Creek districts of the Kanawha coal fields, Governor William E. Glasscock today issued a proclamation of martial law and ordered four companies of West Virginia Infantry under command of Adjutant General C. D. Elliott to the scene of disorder. They will establish headquarters at Paint Creek Junction. A military court will be named to try all offenders taken by the militia. The martial law zone is ten miles long and extends from Paint Creek Junction to Holley Grove, a distance of 4 miles.

Major Thomas B. Davis was named provisional governor to guard cars filled with strike breakers who were turned back last night from Cabin Creek. The strikers were escorted to the coal fields this morning by the Second Regiment of Charleston. The militia will all be in camp by nightfall.

Opossum Thief

A sneak thief made away with four fine opossums belonging to E. M. Cross, well known contracting painter, which he was fattening at his home.

Mr. Cross secured the little animals down at Otway and was fattening them in anticipation of giving some of his friends a treat in the way of an opossum feast on Thanksgiving.

COST OF THE ELECTION

(By Associated Press.)
Columbus, O., Nov. 16—According to Secretary of State Graves' report filed today the cost of the last election in the state was $295,201.98. This report was based on the statement of the candidates filed with the secretary.

SOCIETY

Mr. Vivian Boluss, a popular clerk in the N. & W. offices, and Miss Rowena Rhodes, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rhodes, of Eleventh street, were united in marriage this afternoon at two-thirty at the Second Presbyterian manse, Rev. Charles S. Robertson the officiating clergyman.

Miss Mayme Baird, an intimate friend of the bride, acted as bride's maid, and Mr. Charles Beers served the groom as best man. The bride wore her traveling suit of blue cloth with a velour hat of the same shade.

Mr. and Mrs. Boluss left this afternoon for Cincinnati where they will spend a portion of their honeymoon and on their return will reside with the bride's parents, 1520 Eleventh street.

The Progress Club will meet Monday evening with Miss Anna Duewel, of Twelfth street.

Mrs. I. N. Magee, of Ironton, who has been spending several days with her sister-in-law, Mrs. L. D. Magee, and attending the W. H. M. S. conference at Bigelow, returned home Saturday morning.

The Elks will give a ragtime dance on Thanksgiving eve and the music will be furnished by the Gusto Trio. The committee in charge of the arrangements includes the Messrs. Ernest Kelley, Chalmer Davis and Paul Davidson. The Elks will give a formal Christmas dance.

The following program was rendered by the Woman's Literary Club yesterday afternoon in the club parlors:

"City Government by a Business Man"—Mrs. Mary S. Cotton;

"Value of Birds"—Mrs. A. Z. Blair.

Violin Solo—Mrs. Ralph Donaldson, accompanist, Mrs. Jas. Pearse.

Current Events—Miss Vigus.

Mrs. E. E. Sparks, of the University of Pennsylvania was the only guest.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Coburn, of Harrisonville, was the scene of a merry party last evening when Mr. Frank Minford's Sunday School class gathered there in social session and spent the evening with games and music, and candy making. Those present were Misses Gladys and Gertrude Morford, Rena and Verna Shuter, Mina Haney, Anna Parks, Emma Addis, Catherine Henderson and Messrs. Thurman Addis, Melvin Colegrove, Herbert Parks, Pearl and Ethel Oberly and Harold and Pauline Coburn.

Misses Bessie Newton and Eva Johnson, of Gallia street, left Saturday for a visit with Huntington friends.

FEW RICH MEN

obtained their wealth by speculation, but by systematic saving, and investing their savings where they would work for them and earn good interest. Stock in The Portsmouth Savings & Loan Company is safe and profitable. All our funds are invested in first mortgage real estate loans as required by law. We are examined by and make reports to the State Department. Our dividends to members during the past 21 years have been 6 per cent, compounded semi-annually. As good a rate as can be found on any kind of investment equally as secure.

We will be pleased to explain our plan.

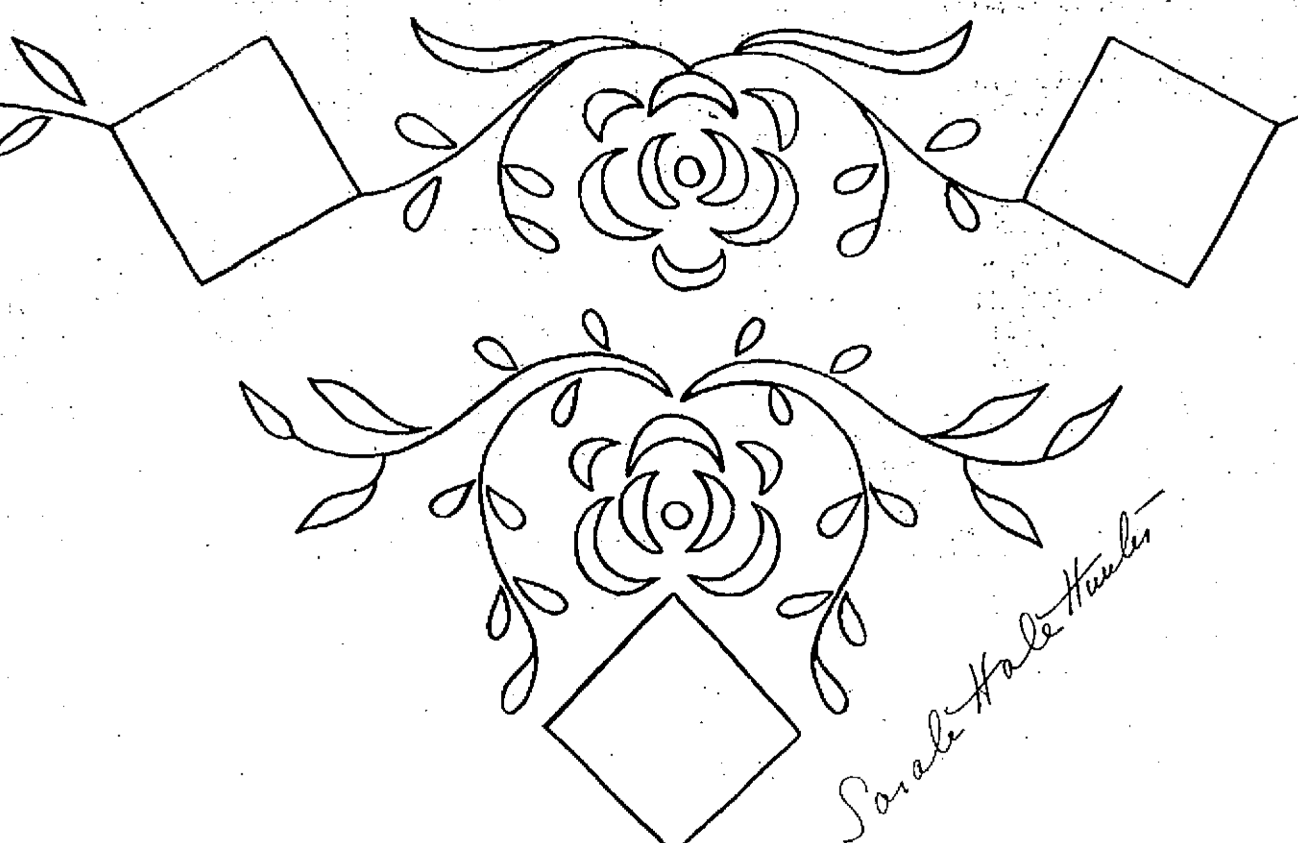
Office: Opera House Building

The ladies of District One of the Second Presbyterian Aid Society are making elaborate preparations for their bazaar, "A Carnival of Seasons," to be given on next Friday and Saturday afternoon and evenings in the basement of the church.

The Clio club met last evening at the residence of Mrs. Frank Spencer. Two interesting papers were read, "American Habit of Overeating," by Miss Edith Elliott, and "Pride—The Maligned Virtue" by Miss Verona Graham.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks with Mrs. Henry Heer.

COLLAR AND CUFF PATTERN TO MATCH SHIRTWAIST OF LAST WEEK.



The flowers and leaves are solidly worked with the dots as eyelets. An insert of lace is placed under each diamond-shaped figure. It is closely buttonholed around the edge and the material is then cut away. Use Mercerized Cotton No. 20.

DIRECTIONS FOR TRANSFERRING.

In taking off these patterns lay a piece of impression paper upon the material, place the newspaper pattern over this, and with a hard, sharp pencil draw firmly over each line. If the material is sheer it may be laid over the pattern and drawn off with pencil, as the design will show through.

No patterns of these designs are available.

A PRETTY DEBUTANTE.

MISS FLORENCE SCHNEIDER

Miss Schneider, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Franklin Schneider, will make her debut in Washington society early this winter. Mrs. Schneider will give a series of dances later in the season in her daughter's honor. Miss Schneider is one of the most popular young ladies of the younger set of the capital.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise:—Does an invitation to a church or home wedding, where no reception follows and my acquaintance with the bride has been short, require a gift?—S. E. R.

No, certainly not. Wedding gifts are never obligatory in any case, only customary, and in your case, they are not even customary.

Dear Miss Wise:—Please tell me of a way to take ten stains out of a white tablecloth.—Housekeeper.

With oxalic acid.

Dear Miss Wise:—I am corresponding with a gentleman. Several times he enclosed a stamp. I always have ignored it by using two one-cent stamps, but he does not seem to understand. Do you think I should accept them?—G. D.

No. And he has no right to send them to you. The next time enclose the stamp in your letter and return it to him.

Dear Miss Wise:—Can you tell me how to make a pretty morning cap?—Ruth.

The easiest way to make a very pretty morning cap is this: Cut a circle, 20 inches in diameter, out of dotted muslin, or any thin material. Put a three-inch hem all the way around the circle and sew lace, an inch or wider, straight on the outer edge of the hem. Run about 20 inches of elastic through the hem and fasten. Put a small ribbon bow on one side, and you have finished. These caps may be made entirely by machine, and they launder easily when the elastic is removed, as they are then but a flat circle.

Dont's For the Guest.

Considering how pleasant the acceptable guest can make life for herself and how many valuable social opportunities she can acquire, it may seem strange that the art of being a guest is so little studied and that there should be so much occasion for the following list of "don'ts." It was compiled by a guest who is always welcome, after a study of the other kind:

Don't fail to let your hostess know the day and hour you expect to arrive.

Don't take two trunks when the summer wardrobe can easily be packed in one.

Don't fail to use your own toilet articles, even if the pretty guest room happens to be supplied by your hostess.

Don't use the fine monogrammed towels for wiping off dusty shoes or automobile grease.

Don't give orders to the servants.

Don't be tardy for meals, and never be absent from the family breakfast, if one is served.

Don't disturb the whole household by loud talking when coming in at night.

Don't continually allude to your sister's perfectly trained children if there happen to be incorrigibles in your hostess' family.

[illegible]'t expatiate on the beauti[illegible] [illegible]dens you have visited if yo[illegible] [illegible]ost's have proved a failure.

Don't make a habit of leaving your wraps, books or personal belongings on the lawn or veranda.

Don't under any circumstances ask anyone to remain to a meal without consulting your hostess.

Don't fail to remember the servants at the conclusion of your visit.

Don't go away with unpaid laundry bills and give a thought to long-distance telephone and express charges.

Don't stay a day longer than you were invited for; better leave a day sooner.

ing of the society will be with Mrs. J. E. Riley of Oakland avenue, in two weeks.

Mr. E. J. Kenrick and daughter, Miss Kate Kenrick, have arrived home from a three weeks' stay in Martinsville, Ind.

The Chillicothe Gazette of Friday said: "Mrs. Charles Erdman of Church street, had a small coterie of friends in Thursday afternoon, to play five hundred. The affair, which was quite informal, was arranged out of compliment to Mrs. Harry Taylor. Three tables were filled for a set of games and at the close pretty trophies were awarded the visitors. Luncheon followed and was dispensed at the several small tables."

The Holmes club met in regular session last evening at the residence of Mrs. Fred Lorey, on Robinson avenue, with Mrs. Will Pfau as assistant hostess. There were sixteen members present. The program was composed of anecdotes in response to roll call, and a reading by Miss Mary Margaret Fuller. After the hostesses served refreshments the members adjourned to meet in two weeks with Mrs. Nell Rowe Adams, of Fifth street.

The receipts from the bazaar, given Thursday and Friday by the Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church will add about $175 to the treasury of the society.

Mrs. Archibald Somerville was the hostess of a delightful sewing party yesterday afternoon, at her residence on Waller street, when her guests included Mesdames W. Grant Williams, John E. Williams, W. R. Fee, Irving Drew, Henry Heer, Harry Bevare, Russell Becker, F. C. Goodwin, W. D. James, Charles E. Hard, William M. Briggs, Pearl E. Selby, T. M. Patterson, Miss Jessie Graves, of Columbus, who is visiting with Mrs. Grant Williams; Miss Gertrude Schmidt and Miss Lucile Harsha. In a guessing contest in "an automobile romance," Mrs. Fee won the prize, a hand-embroidered centerpiece. In serving the dainty luncheon the hostess was assisted by Misses Schmidt and Harsha.

Miss Bessie Simon will finish her season at Mrs. Mary Huffman's millinery Saturday and return to her home in Ft. Thomas, Ky.

Mrs. J. T. Carey, of Waller street, spent the day in Columbus.

Mrs. J. E. Matthews, of Columbus, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Wente, of Fourth street, and her niece, Mrs. Ralph Calvert, of Second street.

Although not a member of the society, Mrs. Robert Dever very pleasantly entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of the Sciotoville Baptist church, at her home in that village Thursday afternoon, and a goodly number of members were present. After devotional services the hostess served excellent refreshments, consisting of fruit dessert, cake, pickles and coffee. The usual collection was taken and amounted to $2.60.

Mrs. Gus Swickert, of Sciotoville, left yesterday for a two weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Horace Moore, in St. Albans, W. Va.

The Saturday Sewing club met yesterday afternoon with Miss Janette Silcox, at her residence on Washington street, with the following members present: Mesdames W. R. Sprague, Marvin Clark, J. C. Scott, Alan Jordan, Charles Frederick, Edgar Appel and Walter Smith.

The management of the Grand personally guarantees "The Senator Keeps House", which comes to the local theatre Tuesday, November 19. Mr. Crane is one of the best known actors in the country and play goers here should not permit him to act before a small and unresponsive house. It is a guaranteed attraction, a real Broadway attraction and Mr. Crane is deserving of liberal patronage as it is his first visit here during his long and brilliant stage career. He was in Cincinnati at the Grand this week and played to splendid returns. The critics fervently praised his new comedy drama. Seats go on sale Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Prices: 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50.

STEEL WORKER IS ASSAULTED

Mystery surrounds an assault committed upon Tom Edwards, aged, 42, employed as second roughter on the 32-inch jobbing mill at the Portsmouth Steel plant late Friday night.

Edwards was found lying across a sidewalk on Sinton street, near Second, at 2 o'clock Saturday morning, by Charles Mathews, an employe of Grimes & Seymour. Mathews was on his way to the Damarin Hill to do some blasting. He found Edwards was unconscious and bleeding from an ugly hole in the head. He failed to arouse him, but managed to drag the injured man to his home at Front and Waller. A trained nurse attending Mrs. Edwards, who became a mother only a few days ago, refused to open the door, saying Mr. Edwards had gone to work hours before. She was finally made to understand, the still unconscious man was admitted and physicians called to attend him. He remained in a comatose state up until almost noon Saturday.

Edwards could throw little or no light upon the assault. He had left home about 11 p. m., on his way to catch a street car as he was to report for duty at midnight. While walking out Sinton he was suddenly struck from behind. The appearance of his wound indicated he had been struck with a brick-bat. He was able to leave his bed Saturday afternoon.

Motherhood

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes. Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

LOCAL TEAM AT HUNTINGTON

Headed by Coach Taggart and Business Manager Tremper, the local high school football team left Saturday morning over the C. & O. for Huntington, where they clash with the Huntington high team this afternoon. The boys left eager for the fray. It is their first contest of the season on foreign grounds, yet they were confident of returning home with the scalp of the Huntington team hanging from their belts.

POOR PEOPLE ARE AIDED BY CITY

The public safety department, Friday, furnished aid to Henry Cole and family, of Paradise Alley. Cole has been in bad health for two months and all but one of the eight children in the family are sick, and the family has been trying to subsist on $4 weekly, earned by one of the boys. Dr. Brodnax has been supplying the family with medicine and neighbors have been doing what they can for them.

Mrs. Bird Nelson, of Third street, was also given an order for provisions at the city safety department's office Thursday. The woman said her baby was ill and she was unable to do any work or she would not have applied for relief. Mrs. Nelson's husband deserted her and family some months ago. The Humane Society has sworn out a warrant for his arrest.

Mrs. Peter Holan, 11501 Buckeye Road, S. E., Cleveland, O., had a little son with a bad case of whooping cough. She says: "He coughed until he was blue in the face. I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and the first few doses had a remarkable and almost immediate effect. A few more doses cured him. Yes, indeed, I can recommend Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." In the yellow package. For sale by The Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, Sixth and Chillicothe streets.

REPORT WAS FILED FRIDAY BY THE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

The Republican executive committee has filed its report of receipts and expenditures of the last campaign with the secretary of state.

The report shows total receipts amounted to $2,365.50, while expenditures were $2,138.21, leaving a balance on hand of $227.28.

Receipts.

The receipts were as follows:

H. B. Adams, treasurer former committee, balance	$ 327.50
C. M. Searl	50.00
C. F. McCoy	75.00
Charles R. Hard	[illegible]
H. M. Switzer	100.00
George H. Hill	50.00
Maurice J. Caldwell	100.00
John F. Eckhart	100.00
George Ditty	100.00
Jos. T. Micklethwait	100.00
Jas. J. Spencer	50.00
Jacob Kuhner	50.00
John H. Gillen	100.00
Thos. C. Patterson	175.00
Thos. C. Beatty	200.00
Roy McElhaney	160.00
O. W. Robe	15.00
T. A. Jones	35.00
Louis Korth	10.00
Judge J. W. Bannon	25.00
Brawley Bros.	25.00
State Republican Executive Committee	150.00
Joseph Craigmiles	10.00
Charles A. Wilson	5.00
John M. Williams	15.00
Ed. J. Dachler	15.00
L. C. Turley	20.00
George L. Davis	3.00
S. C. Gowdy	5.00
A. C. Yeager	5.00
Job Philipps	10.00
Harry W. Miller	50.00
D. Fran Walters	25.00
Sam and J. J. Harper	10.00
James Folsom	5.00
Dan W. Conroy	100.00
Fred N. Tynes	25.00
Total	$2365.50

The expenditures show that the money went for rent, polling, postage, printing, work about headquarters, etc. Our old friend, Henry Cline, star orator of the campaign, was paid $51.17 for his services, but whether this money went for work or was pay at so much per speech, is not stated. If Henry got paid for his orations, Jim Ettinge, Sherrard Johnson and other orators should sit up and take notice. They at least worked as hard as Henry.

Walter Finney was paid $30.80 for his yeoman work in the campaign.

John Higgins' name appears in the list for sundry sums paid to him for work.

The Keystone Press Company was paid $90.75 for printing; Portsmouth Blade, $100 for advertising; Kuh-Patterson Company $68.20, for printing, and The Times Company, $24 for advertising.

On election day the committee had 155 persons working for it in the various precincts. Of these, 54 were $3.00 men and 101 were $5.00 a day men, making a total of $667 that was spent by the committee on election day. The $3.00 a day men have a kick coming on their pay. They seem to be cheap skates, as the real workers drew $5.00 per day each.

There are 48 precincts in the county, and under the law the committee is allowed to employ only three workers in each precinct. Three times 48 is 144. The committee had 155 according to its report.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR AT SMALL COST

A Simple Remedy Beautifies the Hair, Cures Dandruff, Stops Falling Hair.

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded or streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft, glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and lustre if they would but use the proper treatment. There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five years of age, and there is no excuse for anyone, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff or heavy and rank smelling with excessive oil.

You can bring back the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair grow strong and beautiful by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. For generations common garden Sage has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair; and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being excellent for treatment of hair and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and notice the improvement in the appearance of your hair after a few days' treatment.

JULIETTE DAY.

Miss Day has the part of Moy Fah Loy in "The Yellow Jacket" one of the recent New York successes. When rehearsing the part somebody suggested that she would have to use "pigeon English" and make her voice squeak when she played the part of a Chinese girl. She just wouldn't, and went on with the part without any disguise of voice. And she made a big hit onthe opening night.

THE ANTI SALOON LEAGUE HELPED OUT C. F. M'COY

A Columbus dispatch says that the Anti-Saloon League has filed a report with the secretary of state showing that it contributed to the campaigns of various legislative candidates over the state. Among those favored by the Anti-Saloon League was C. F. McCoy, Republican candidate for state senator in this district.

Talking Insurance.

George Patton, principal of the Manchester (Ohio) schools, spent Saturday talking insurance at Friendship and vicinity.

CANDIDATES FILE EXPENSE ACCTS.

Henry Prescott, treasurer of the Prohibition committee of Scioto county, filed his expense account with the Board of Elections Friday.

The report showed a balance from last year of $10.21. The committee received a check of $100 from Miss Mary Peebles. The Fifth street meeting netted a collection of $5 and the one held in Tracy park, $20.72, a total of $135.96. Among expenditures, J. Raymond Schmidt, state chairman was given $10; the Poling meeting cost $5.75; Clarions, $50. The total expenditures amounted to $135.96, leaving a balance in he reasury of $8.09.

John Gillen, the defeated Republican candidate for representative, spent $128.25, of which he gave $100 to the Republican committee. Charles Noel, Republican candidate for surveyor, spent $4 for posters. Maurice Caldwell spent $152, giving $100 to the Republican committee. Sheriff John Eckhart spent $174, of which $100 went to the Republican committee. He paid the following personal workers: Ralph Calvert, Wilbur Barringer, Roy Coburn, Charles Wilson, John Martin, Charles Ackley and Flossie Crabtree $5 each. Roy McElhaney spent $212.50 to be re-elected, giving $100 to the Republican committee, $5 each to Tom Justice, Charles Monk and Dick Thornton and $3 each to Ben Johnson and King Veasey. Sam Davis spent only $3 and George Emmett did not spend anything.

New Pool Parlor Has Been Opened

The Pennant Pool Parlor in the basement of the Haldeman building at Fifth and Chillicothe streets, was formally opened Saturday by Messrs. Pete Childs and Harry Hinchman. It is easily one of the most attractive in the state and will be popularized by local cuists, who are desirous of playing in an up-to-date parlor.

The tables are the best that are made, the room is handsomely equipped throughout and with Pete and Harry on the job ever ready to rack 'em up or swap a story, the new place is sure to receive its share of patronage.

GOLD DUST TWINS ACCUSED OF THEFT

Everett and Homer Roberts, two North End colored boys, familiarly known as "The Gold Dust Twins," were taken into custody by the police Saturday morning on suspicion of tapping a till at the U. S. Laundry office a few days ago.

The brothers vigorously deny the robbery, but will be held for investigation. They called at the laundry office after a bundle of laundry. Miss Minnie Hartlege, the company's bookkeeper, was alone at the time. The package was not in the office and she hastened upstairs after it. The robbery is thought to have occurred during her brief absence, but was not discovered until next morning, when in checking up the cash drawer was found to be $18 shy. The Roberts boys are the same who caused the police much trouble a year or so ago by snatching pocketbooks from women shoppers and pedestrians.

OVERCROWDED SCHOOLS

(Contributed.)

Few people realize the problem which the board of education and the citizens of Portsmouth are now facing in their attempt to provide educational facilities for all of the city's school children. The report of the superintendent of schools for September and October, read at the meeting of the board of education last night, gives some idea of what must be done in school affairs, if our educational institutions are to keep pace with the progress now in evidence in other lines in the Peerless.

The superintendent's September report shows 4,175 pupils enrolled for the first month of this school year. This is just 404 more than were enrolled for the corresponding month last year. As the teaching force has been increased by only seven teachers, that is, from 103 in 1911-12, to 110 in 1912-13, the increase in pupils has been more than 56 for each additional teacher. The teaching force can not be further increased where it is most needed, that is, on the hilltop and in the east end, owing to shortage in school rooms in these localities.

No teacher can well teach more than 45 pupils. It is the rule in Cincinnati to form a new school whenever the number of pupils in any room reaches 45. Should our board adopt the same policy, we should now require more than 20 additional teachers. The Offnere street school has two rooms with 46 pupils each. Highland has one with 46, two with 48 and one with 58. The Lawson school has one with 62. The Terminals has one with 59, Earlytown one with 49 and Campbell avenue one with 46, one with 47, two with 50 each and one with 59. Bond street has one with 46 and another with 50. Union street has one with 46, one with 47, one with 56, and one with 51. Even though six elementary schools are being maintained in the new high school to relieve the hilltop, still the Offnere and the Highland schools are over crowded. There is similar overcrowding at Campbell avenue, Earlytown and the Terminals. To relieve the situation in the East End, pupils are required to come from within the shadows of the Campbell avenue school to the Union street school. Unless additional school rooms can be provided before September, 1913, relief will have to be sought by having half day sessions in the elementary schools, one part of the pupils attending school in the forenoon and the other part in the afternoon.

With The Hunters

Rabbit hunting proved the long suit for Theo. Pierron and Clark Hancock, Friday, in the northern part of the county. The two bagged fifteen bunnies, but got nary a bird.

One lone rabbit and a measley quail were the fruits of a hunt indulged in Friday by P. V. Davidson and O. C. Sprague on the Willey farm near Henley. These two crack huntsmen found game unusually scarce and returned from the fields very much disgusted.

J. W. Dalton and Bird Zeigler spent the opening day at Pond Run and took Officer George Harding along to make them behave. W. O. Horn and Frank Servey put in the day at Clifford. Will Tritschelfer was at Waite's Station. Will Distel expects to go out next week. Oscar Coburn, Walter Bierley and Al. Lechner left Saturday for the Nagel farm on Dogwood Ridge. Major Engelbrecht started for the West Side Friday afternoon, but found more hunters than game and returned home, resolved to wait a few days before going out again. Frank Brown, collector for the Portsmouth Gas Company, and son went to Sandy Springs for a few days' hunt.

"Shorty" Wheeler returned from Oak Hill Friday night, with the limit in quail and a half dozen rabbits.

Chester Davidson, a local shoeworker, is spending his vacation hunting in the vicinity of Dogwood Ridge.

Stewart Gerding, of the round house, spent Friday hunting for stray Bob Whites.

Henry T. Bannon took his first crack at bob white in the vicinity of Lucasville Friday.

Dan Wilson, while hunting in the woods near Stockdale Friday found a horse belonging to Frank Backus which wandered away from the Backus farm three days ago and was thought to have been stolen.

George Hasselman expects to go hunting next week.

J. W. Dalton and George Harding returned from Pond Run with a fair amount of game.

A Fine New Girl

A baby daughter was born to William Justice, an N. & W. car repairer, and wife, at their home, No. 811 Prospect street, Saturday morning.

WITH THE SICK

Lynn's ambulance removed Mrs. Laura Smith, of No. 826 Front street, to Hempstead hospital Friday night for medical treatment.

Mrs. Clara Morris-Cummings, sister of Mrs. Harry Ball, arrived here from Washington, D. C., Friday afternoon to visit their aged mother, Mrs. Josephine Morris, who is very ill at her home in Union Mills.

Mrs. George H. Shepard, of Fourth and Court streets, who has been dangerously ill for some days past with acute indigestion, was reported slightly better Friday. Several physicians have been in almost constant attendance.

Hugh Ellis, well known former Portsmouth mill man, arrived here from Courtland, N. Y., Friday, to visit his brother, Merchant Policeman James Ellis, who is again seriously ill at his home on Ninth street.

Mrs. Edith Levi-Boehm, sister of Mrs. William Pruitt, of the West End hotel, is slowly recovering from a very severe illness.

Charles William, the baby son of Manager Charles Pugh, of the Postal Telegraph office, is reported quite ill.

Mrs. Frank Lewis was operated upon for gall stones Friday in the Grant hospital in Columbus. She rallied splendidly. Her son, Robert Lewis, accompanied her to the Capital City.

Edgar M. Brown, traveling salesman for the Portsmouth Hat Company, is recovering from an attack of the grip.

Dan Crawford, well known West End blacksmith, is suffering with a severe case of kidney trouble. He has been unable to work for the past three weeks.

Suffering with a complication of diseases, Mrs. Clay Bennett is in a serious condition at her home, 1916 Timmonds avenue.

Mrs. Alex Kelso, of 617 Court street, successfully withstood a surgical operation at Hempstead hospital Friday.

Ray Davis continues critically ill at the home of his uncle, S. S. Bridwell, of East Seventh street.

George Sickles, of Wellston, has been called to the bedside of his aged mother, Mrs. Frances Sickles, who is in an alarming condition, suffering with stomach trouble. Mrs. Sickles was well on the road to recovery when she suffered a relapse and her condition is again the source of much worr to her friends and relatives.

John Weiss, well known former Portsmouth man and brother of Mike Weiss, who died at Dayton, Ky., recently, is laid up at the city hospital in Cincinnati. He is said to have developed tubercular trouble. Mr. Weiss, until his illness, was employed with a large clothing concern there.

Mrs. Adolph Hurth, Jr., has been detained at home all week on account of severe toothache.

Miss Neva Bailey, of Thirteenth street, is very slowly recovering from an attack of grippe and malarial fever. Miss Bailey is employed at the Selby shoe factory.

Word came from Columbus Saturday that Mrs. Frank Lewis, who underwent an operation in the Grant hospital in Columbus, Friday, was more than holding her own, the operation being a complete success.

Mrs. Ed Burnside is seriously ill at her home on Twelfth street.

THE MARKETS

Chicago, Nov. 16.—As we anticipated in our last week's letter, the markets on wheat, corn and oats have had a marked decline. Wheat closed 89⅞ last Saturday for December, closed today at 85¾. Corn that closed at 50c for December last Saturday, closed today at 47¼. This you will understand, if the old crop of corn and the quotations represent strictly No. 2 old corn. The new crop of corn sold on the market as low as 35c, grading cool and sweet.

The closing of the grain market today was anything but optimistic. The limited number of buyers was so much less than the sellers that it looked at one time as if the market would go all to pieces, and the only thing that saved it was the withdrawal of several large line sfrom the market today. This will all come on the market the comnig week, and there is no queston but that it will have its effect and another downward situation will present itself.

Fine weather for harvesting the corn and the enormous amount that is being thrown on the market with buyers all anticipating lower figures, we can see nothing ahead but lower prices.

MANY PROMOTIONS ARE COMING ON THE N. & W. ACCORDING TO REPORT

Persistent rumors are in circulation in N. & W. circles to the effect that a series of promotions in the freight department of the road have been determined upon and will soon be officially announced.

The men affected are all officials long prominent in the freight department, and the promotions are a fitting recognition of their faithful service.

At N. & W. division headquarters here, it was admitted that they had heard rumors of promotions all along the line in the freight department, but they declined to confirm or deny, or even discuss prospective changes in advance of any official announcement.

As the Times got the rumor, the movement upward will be started by well earned advancement to be given two high officials of the freight department at Roanoke, T. S. Davaut and J. R. Ruffin. It is not learned the exact nature of the positions which rumor says these officials will hereafter fill, but it is said both will go considerably higher in N. & W. officialdom.

The same talk in regard to the advancement of general officials of the N. & W. also says that the following promotions will result in consequence:

S. S. Bridgers, who has been assistant general freight agent with headquarters at Columbus, goes to Roanoke to succeed J. R. Ruffin as general freight agent.

B. W. Herman, general freight agent at Cincinnati, goes to Columbus, to succeed Mr. Bridgers as assistant general freight agent.

G. C. VanZandt, freight agent at Columbus, goes to Cincinnati, to succeed B. W. Herman as agent there.

C. H. Brown, agent at Ironton, goes to Columbus to succeed G. C. VanZandt as agent there.

Harry Doty, agent at Portsmouth, goes to Ironton to succeed C. H. Brown as agent.

Z. E. England, agent at Hillsboro, comes to Portsmouth to succeed Harry Doty as freight agent here.

In being transferred to the Ironton office, Harry Doty will get a considerable advance in salary, the Ironton office paying more than the Portsmouth office.

C. H. Brown, scheduled to go from Ironton to Columbus, was formerly chief clerk to Superintendent Johnson, of the N. & W. here.

Z. E. England, who, it is said, is to come to Portsmouth, is no stranger here. He was located in Portsmouth some years ago, is a fine gentleman and an experienced railroad man.

NAME BABIES FOR THE NEW PRESIDENT

Two Woodrow Wilsons are now residing in the city of Portsmouth. The stork left a fine son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bradford, of Rosemount Road, and he was immediately named Woodrow Wilson. Shortly afterward, the big bird left a fine son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Carrington, of Scioto street, and again the name of the president-elect was bestowed upon the new arrival.

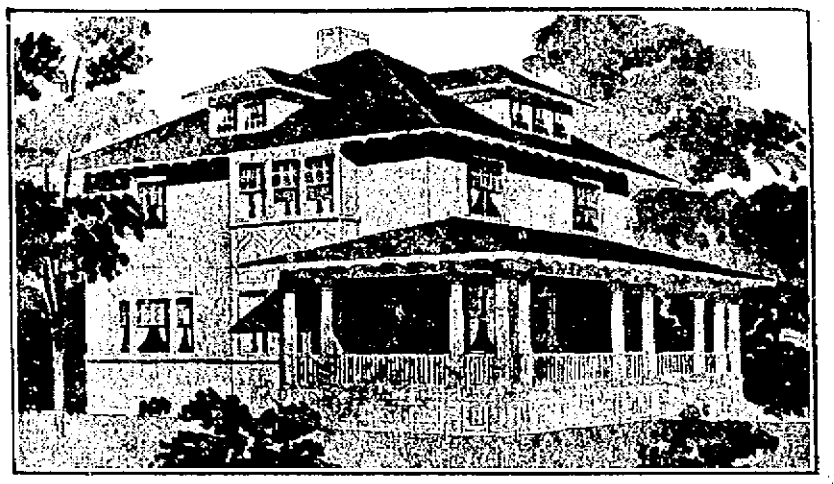
A MODERN BRICK HOUSE

Designed By Charles S. Sedgwich, Architect.

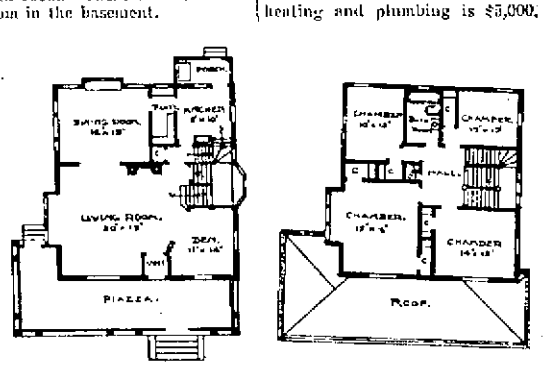


The house illustrated is 30 feet wide by 35 feet depth, with a piazza across the front and returned back on the left hand side 10 feet wide. This is a plain, substancial design, with low, pitched hip roof and wide projected cornices with timber rafters showing. The construction throughout is first class, built with a timber frame, with 2 by 6 inch studding, sheathed and papered on the outside and veneered with red pressed brick. The outside walls are back plastered, making a very warm house and good construction.

The first story is 9 feet in height and the second story 8 feet 6 inches. The house is finished throughout with oak in the first story, finished with light, brown stain and natural oak floors and beam ceilings in the principal rooms. There is one main central chimney with a wide fireplace in the living room. The second floor is finished in white enamel with mahogany red doors and polished birch floors. The attic story is finished with a large billiard room and two servants' rooms.

The arrangement throughout is home-like and convenient with no waste room, second story hall being square, reached by wide platformed stairs with separate section to kitchen. The doors to the chambers open directly out of the square hall, making a very compact arrangement, the rooms being well provided with closets of ample size. There is a large bath room. There is also a bath room in the basement.

The living room is very attractive, entered through a central vestibule and with a pretty den or music room on the right and lighted from the front and one side with ample windows. The attic story is well-lighted with dormer windows on all sides, and the roof is well-treated and gives a fine exterior appearance. The cost of the house exclusive of heating and plumbing is $5,000.



Shoe Experts Here To Inspect Plants

Walter Brown, who, fifteen years ago, was employed in the cutting room of the Selby Shoe company, visited that factoy Friday, not in search of employment for new ideas, as Mr. Brown made use of his early training and now holds a splendid position with the Thomas G. Plant company, makers of the celebrated Queen Quality and Dorothy Dodd shoes.

Mr. Brown was accompanied by the general superintendent of the plant and they will inspect a number of the larger plants before returning east. Mr. Brown met a number of old friends here Friday and enjoyed his brief stay in the River City.

The Selby plant is looked upon as a model plant in the shoemaking line and hardly a day passes but what out-of-town manufacturers are shown through it willingly.

MANILA SHOE SALESMAN IS GUEST OF THE EXCELSIOR

Coming all the way from Manila to spend a few days with the firm he represents, the Excelsior Shoe company, J. Rosenthal has been getting his first peep at a modern shoe plant. He represents this firm in the Philippines, China and Manila and sells thousands of pairs of Excelsior-made shoes annually. No small part of this firm's business comes from foreign climes. Mr. Rosenthal was shown around Portsmouth and enjoyed his visit to the limit.

DESERTED FAMILY IS DESTITUTE

Word reached the police officials Friday night that Mrs. Benjamin McGraw and children, of No. 1823 Robinson avenue, were in destitute circumstances. Arrangements have been made to place her two boys in the county children's home and Mrs. William Harcha, of Robinson avenue, has agreed to take her daughter. The husband and father deserted his family some time ago.

Clear Up Robbery

Another local robbery of some months ago has just been cleared up by the police.

George Whitman, leader of the [illegible] bandit gang rounded up last week, confessed to Captain Roma Walker and Officer Rome Arthur on the way to the Mansfield reformatory that it was he who broke into Leo Griebel's cigar store and factory on Waller street. He said he got $5 in money and a quantity of cigars.

BILL HALL'S HEAD IS ON THE MEND

"Bill" Hall, the North End character, who was assaulted several weeks ago by John McCoy, is recovering from the injuries received on the head. The attack of blood poisoning which at first it was feared would cause his death, is gradually forsaking him. He is able to leave his home, but in his weakened condition is unable to return to his work as a brickworker.

IS GOING TO WEST BADEN

Wade Kennedy, of the Irving Drew Shoe company, will leave early next week for West Baden where he will spend a week. He was recently there for ten days and obtaind so much benefit that his physician exacted a promise out of him that he would return later for another beneficial stay.

LOOMING UP AT YALE

Friends of Reuben Horchow, who entered Yale this fall, will be interested to learn that he is now a regular contributor to the Yale News, the official paper of that great educational institution. Mr. Horchow has been added to the reportorial staff and is contributing some clever stories of college life.

Motor Trip To Detroit

George Ahrend leaves the first part of next week on a motor trip to Detroit and Niagara Falls and other points of interest along the route.

Mrs. Ella Owens-Ruark, of Court street, has taken a position as saleswoman in the second-hand clothing store located in the Schuler building.

MAY HAVE TO GIVE UP ROAD

William Higgins, who for a number of years has traveled for the Selby Shoe company, will likely make very few more trips for this firm. He was unable to finish his present fall trip owing to illness and was forced to return to his home. R. Lynn Lloyd is finishing his trip. Mr. Higgins' territory embraces the Dakotas and Minnesota. He is past 76 years of age and in point of service is one of the oldest traveling men in the city.

The foundation for the new residence Henry Faivre is erecting on Bond street is about completed.

Now Located In Idaho

Harry R. Secrest, for many years postmaster and merchant at Concord, Ky., is now located in Sand Point, Idaho. He is nicely adjusted in his new home and writes local friends that he is very much pleased with his surroundings.

Positions In Cigar Factory

Miss Elizabeth Rice of Ironton and Miss Sophia Brown of this city, have taken employment in Doerr Bros.' cigar factory on West Second street. There has been a dearth of cigar and stogie makers in this city for some time.

Harris Likes Portsmouth

Charles Harris, who is employed in the Lehman shoe store, will spend Sunday at his home in Richmond, Ind. He recently located here and is well pleased with Portsmouth.

Splendid Services Held At Y. M. C. A.

Friday was Patriotic Day at the railroad Y. M. C. A. and the services were most inspiring to the large audience which was present. The music was all patriotic and under the direction of Mr. M. H. F. Kinsey, who has worked hard this week to make the special services a success.

The musical program last night was as follows:

Violins and piano, "Blue and the Gray", Messrs. Powers, Hopkins and Kinsey.

Violins and piano, "Boy Scouts of America," Messrs. Powers, Hopkins, Kinsey.

Violin solo, "Salute to the Flag," Mr. Powers.

"Our Heroes" (Grand March) Powers, Hopkins, Kinsey.

Song, "America", audience.

Military March "Our Veterans", Powers and Kinsey.

Dr. R. Y. Henley, physician at the Y. M. C. A. gave the principal address of the day. His address was in keeping with the day and was much appreciated by his audience.

Dr. Henley said:

"Our country, the queen among nations; rich in the blood of her sons, and made sacred in tradition by the wages desolation and ruin of war, merges from her liabilitation of sorrow and calls upon the bravest and best of her sons to remove the crown of thorns with the heavy hand of iron, which presses her fevered, aching brow, and reminding us that a land without ruins is a land without memories; a land without liberty. The land that wears a laurel wreath is fair to see, but twine a few sad cypress leaves around the brow of any land, and be it beautiless and bleak it becomes lovely in its consecrated coronet of sorrow, and wins the heart and history."

"It is a pleasure to realize that your state and mine; Virginia and Ohio walk hand in hand, for they are states upon the pages of whose histories are recorded the names of men who represent those principles that stand for honor, truth, justice and sincerity, and which will ever shine as bright stars in the galaxy that adorns and emblazons the sky of freedom. Men who were not moved by that ambition which the world calls noble, the love of glory, but the sentiment whose guiding star is liberty, the proud and beautiful form of which will stand out Bartholdi-like in memory against the horizon of time as long as the human heart beats responsive to the thrilling touch of noble deeds."

Change Won't Hurt Business

T. M. Patterson does not anticipate any material change in business conditions of the country because the Democrats will return to power.

"Of course," said Mr. Patterson, "it all depends on what the Democrats do. If they go changing the tariff much it is bound to affect certain lines of business. My own business is good at the present time, and the prospects for the future are also good."

WOUNDED HUNTER IS BACK HOME

Morris Ervin, an employe of the Co., has returned to his work after Peerless Granite and Cut Stone a rabbit hunt in Adams county. As the result of an accidental discharge of a shot-gun in the hands of Ervin's companions, Ervin received several slight shot wounds in the face, but is recovering from them nicely.

JUDGE LONG ON GAS MANTLES

Judge George M. Osborn has enough gas mantles on hand to supply himself and friends for some time to come. Early Friday an expressman dropped into the Judge's office with a package consigned to George Osborn. The Judge signed for it and paid the 45 cent charges and it was not until he opened the box and saw its contents that he realized that it was not intended for him, but for some other person of similar name. He has since been busy trying to locate the right owner, but in vain.

As the last lesson ended with exercises with chairs, so this lesson will begin with movements with the same pieces of furniture. They are designed to strengthen the body from head to foot, front and back.

Place two chairs far enough apart so that when your head is resting on one your feet will be on the other. Seat yourself on the floor and place your head and feet on the chairs and cross the hands across the abdomen. Lift the body from the floor, supporting it only by the head and heels, as shown above, until it is horizontal. If you cannot lift yourself with the chairs in this position, place them nearer together so that the lower part of the legs and the shoulders lie on them. As the muscles increase in strength from day to day, move the chairs farther apart. Repeat the exercise five times in the morning and ten times at night.

With the chairs in the same position place yourself on them with the chin on one and the tops of the feet on the other and the body bent between them. Raise the body to the horizontal position as in the previous exercise. Repeat this an equal number of times. Here also, if the body cannot be lifted, move the chairs closer together.

Solid Floor for This One.

Here is an exercise that requires a solid floor. Otherwise, if it is taken on an upper floor it may call forth objections from persons in the rooms beneath it. Stand erect, and, keeping the knees stiff, jump from the floor, moving the feet only at the ankles and rising from and landing on the balls of the feet. The motion will be rapid. Repeat the jumps ten times in the morning and twenty times at night.

Two or three lessons back an exercise was given for opening and broadening the chest. Here is a modification of it. Extend the arms in front of the face, hands open and palms turned toward each other. Throw the arms apart smartly, carrying them as far back as they will go, and at the same time turning the palms upward and keeping the arms in line with the shoulders. In returning the arms to the original position move them with equal speed and stop them suddenly a few inches apart. Make the motion both backward and forward as rapidly as possible, repeating it ten times in the morning and twenty times at night.

A Limbering Exercise.

By way of a change and as a limbering exercise for the waist, try this one. Lie flat on the back on the floor or a bed, with the arms extended from the shoulders. Draw the left leg up part way toward the body and roll the lower part of the body to the right as far as it will go, as shown above, keeping the shoulders in their original position. Roll back, draw the right leg up in the same way and roll to the left as far as possible. Repeat the movement five times in the morning and ten times at night.

HUNTING SEASON IS HERE, BOB WHITES TO SUFFER

(By A. Hunter.)

There is in every man, however refined and educated, some latent traits of the savage, some lingering of the old instinct to kill.

We hunters, or sportsmen as we love to call ourselves nowadays, go out at the opening of the season with dog and gun in search of Bob White and his fellow denizens of the field, and we say it is the "back to nature," "call of the wild," "lure of the brown fields and frosty air" and the like. All of which may be true. But it is something more besides, and however we may dislike to admit it, that something is the world-old instinct to take life.

From the time away back there when the man savage first formed his partnership with the dog savage that instinct has been present. Civilization has refined the art of killing, but has in no sense extinguished it. The immutable law which demands that all life shall subsist through and by the destruction of other and weaker forms of life is behind it all and no matter how much the humanitarian may plead for the "poor little birds that do no harm," man's nature remains the same—at the bottom a savage taking life because the taking of life is the law of life.

But don't worry about a little thing like the law of life. That was unalterably fixed long, long ago and you hadn't a word to say either for or against. And so if today you feel the "call" clean up your old shotgun, whistle to the spotted dog, if you have one, or borrow your neighbor's if you have not, and go forth to slay, slaughter and shed innocent blood.

Stirring up that old savage instinct now and then can do no harm and may do good, since if you are a city man and shut up all day in a stuffy shop or office, it will take you out into the open where you can fill your lungs with God's pure air and relieve your mind, if only for a day, of those cares and worries which are so necessary and useless.

To most healthy men the hunt has an instinctive appeal. It is nature's call to hardy manhood. It is our tribute to the blood in our veins of old ancestors who followed the chase not as sport but as an occupation essential to the sustenance of life. It is the spirit of the fall season, the answering call in the soul of the modern man to that remote time when both man and the world was young.

But if you go out for a hunt, do it like a gentleman. That means that you should respect the laws of the state restricting the killing of game to the letter; that you should not hunt upon another man's land without his permission, and that under no circumstances should you endanger the property or life of any person by reckless shooting.

If you want to know how the farmer feels about a bunch of canvas-clothed strangers overrunning his fields, unbidden, and shooting indiscriminately in every direction, just imagine yourself in his place. Very few farmers will refuse permission to hunt if approached in a gentlemanly manner. It is only fair to the farmer that he should know who you are; and then it gives him a chance to tell you where the stock pastures are located and you can be on the lookout. And last but not least, it makes him feel that you are giving him a square deal.

It is hard to make some hunters understand that the quail and rabbits on a man's farm are as much his property as the cattle in his fields and the hay in his barn. The farmer confers a great favor when he permits you to hunt on his land.

And above all, don't "pot-shoot" the birds. "Pot shooting" is forbidden by law and justly. It was probably to distinguish between the "pot hunter" or the man who shoots birds on the ground, and the man who shoots them only on the wing, that the term "sportsman" was applied. If so, let us all be sportsmen. A hunter who "pots" is on a par with the fellow who slips a "ringer" into a horse race. Give the birds a chance. It is a crime because we love to kill. There is a difference between killing and murder.

THIS HUNTING DOG WEARS "SPECKS."

Dead Hill, Ark., Nov. 16.—Minnesota Fanny, thoroughbred English setter, granddaughter of the famous Joe Cummins, wears specs. Ladies, Sir is the property of Troy Cantrell, of this city, and was filled out this week with "specks" by an oculist of Hot Springs, who found that she was suffering from astigmatism. This dog has been known as the best hunt-ing dog in northwest Arkansas for years.

Dubs Now, Heroes Later

"Those fellows who are panning Snodgrass and Merkle for their fatal mistakes in the last game of the world's series are funny to me," says Sir Christopher Mathewson. "Next year the same fans will be shouting for Snodgrass and Merkle as loudly as ever. A few solid hits with men on bases will make the grouches forget all about the blunders of these two fine players that enabled the Red Sox to beat the Giants."

MARTY O'TOOLE WILL WED

Pittsburg Baseball Player Engaged to Miss Mary Dreyfuss.

Pittsburg, Nov. 16.—Manager Barney Dreyfuss announced today that Pittsburg's star catcher, Marty O'Toole, the Pittsburg beauty, and that a simple but pretty home wedding will take place in Mr. Dreyfuss' home in South Fairmount.

JACK JOHNSON IS NOW OUT ON BOND

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Nov., 16—After a week's sojourn behind the bars Jack Johnson, heavy weight champion pugilist of the world, was released from the Cook county jail Friday.

M. S. Baldwin, real estate man, and Mrs. Tina Johnson, the prisoner's mother, furnished the $30,000 bond required.

Assistant United States Attorney Parkin declared that he would ask no more bond from the negro on later indictments charging violation of the Mann white slave law.

As Johnson left the court room city detectives stepped up and arrested him on warrants charging assault and battery sworn out by a newspaper photographer who alleged Johnson struck him with a cane and broke his camera when he attempted to "snap" him on his way to jail. Johnson took the detectives in his auto to the East Chicago avenue station where he gave bond for his appearance in the morning. This time there was no opposition to Tony May singing the negro's bail.

SHORT SPORT

Don't feel discouraged if a forward pass goes wrong. Remember, he's a poor passer who can't throw the pigskin straight at an opponent once in a while.

A Nebraska "prof" insists college rooting is immoral and on the level with the jimmy. Wonder what he'd say to pop bottle throwing?

When "Bat" Nelson takes that trip around the world he will have an opportunity to tell it to the King of Denmark.

How much chance do you suppose David Harum would stand with a latter day baseball magnate?

We're used to Gerald Hayes in this league. What then is Chivington's reason for inflicting him on International league fans?

If Cornell coppers Michigan today, possibly the Wolverines will be anxious to climb back on the Western Conference wagon. There are still a few teams in it that Michigan can wallop.

Is Jennings kidding only himself when he says he'd like to have "Iron Man" McGinnity for relief pitcher next season?

President Murphy of the Cubs is determined to land Shortstop Doolan of the Phillies. His latest proposition is this: Cincinnati to give Chance, Stitchell and Grant to Philadelphia, receiving Doolan in exchange, and then ship Doolan to the Cubs in exchange for Tinker. Chance might supplant Charley Dooin as manager if such a deal was effected.

"I've had an occasional 'run-in' with McGraw," said a National league umpire, "but I've got to give him credit. He made me hot under the collar two or three times, but I'll say one thing that when he kicked he knew what he was kicking about, and he taught me a lot about baseball that I didn't know before."

Now they want to make Miner Brown an umpire. As a three-fingered demon, Mordecai has lost much of his stride, having been cast aside by the Cubs and tossed over to the Louisville Colonels. It comes from New York that Tom Lynch is considering such a berth for Brown. He would be a welcome addition to the staff.

SI SEYMOUR RELEASED

The Newark club of the International league yesterday released Si Seymour to the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league.

YALE CAN'T ACCOMMODATE "OLD GRADS."

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 15.—The football association yesterday sent back more than $1,100 that it had been sent with requests for seats at the Yale-Harvard clash on November 23. About 6,000 persons, including more than 1,000 Yale students who wanted to see the game, were disappointed.

BIG INDIAN WHO WILL TACKLE THE ARMY

CAPTAIN THORPE

The biggest part of the Carlisle Indian eleven, which plays the army eleven today.

BASEBALL

Connie Mack has shipped Crabb, a pitcher, and Maggert, an outfielder, together with another player named Bayhey to the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league in exchange for Outfielder Pete Daley.

President Charles Murphy of the Cubs offered the Milwaukee club $5,000 for Pitcher Watson, a promising young twirler turned up by the Brewers last season, but the bid was refused. He must be some pitcher if "Murph" was willing to part with 5,000 "iron men" for him.

If anyone thinks that John H. Farrell, secretary of the National association of minor leagues, has a soft job, he's greatly mistaken. In his annual report it was shown that Farrell handled 23,167 letters during the year. Most of these letters were bulky affairs containing hundreds of words of testimony. Farrell not only read this but stored most of it in his memory.

Bill Clymer has finally drifted back to Class AA ball, securing a job as manager of the Buffalo club in the International league. Bill made a great record in the American association as manager of the Columbus club and the fans of that city have never fully forgiven the management for allowing him to go.

WOLVERTON TURNS DOWN COAST OFFER.

New York, Nov. 16.—Harry Wolverton, deposed manager of the Yankees, today refused an offer to manage the Sacramento team of the Pacific Coast league, although he was asked to name his own terms.

NOW IS THE SEASON TO PICK ALL-AMERICAN BALL TEAMS

It's the season for picking All-American teams for the fans who can work up no interest in anything but baseball. Clark Griffith of the Washington club joined the lot. Here is the team the "Old Fox" picks and the batting order: Milan, outfield; Close, first base; Cobb, outfield; Hans Wagner, shortstop; Doyle, second base; Speaker, outfield; Baker, third base; Henry, catcher, and Johnson, pitcher.

"That ball team is the best that could be picked, according to my way of thinking," says Griffith. "I think it would be hard to pick a better one from the two leagues. My other pitchers would be Walsh and Wood from the American league, and Rucker from the National league. The other catchers would be Chief Meyers and Bresnahan. For a utility infielder I would prefer Zimmerman of the Cubs, and Sam Crawford of the Tigers as utility outfielder. I would feel sorry for the club that would have to go up against a batting order like the above."

Josh Devore was talking about speed of certain pitchers not long ago, and when Joe Wood was mentioned, Josh said: "No sucker in the world ever had the speed of that guy Wood. Say, he threw two balls at me that shot by my lung that were the size of a brickshot. All I saw before they sung past me was a little blur of white."

Tris Speaker, in talking to the folks down home in Texas, had the following to say about the boys who think they can make big league ball players: "If a boy thinks he can play baseball he should be given every chance in the world to demonstrate to his own satisfaction the soundness of his judgment. Baseball holds many inducements to the young man who can play, and there is no gainsaying the fact that it is lucrative, even more so than most other salaried positions."

Tim Hurst, who not long ago was reported to be passing away and who told the doctor who informed him that he was about to cash in that he was a "cheese doctor," dropped into American league headquarters yesterday and began talking baseball. "Heine Wagner is a player most of the writers overlook, and he is the entire Boston infield," said Tim. "He made plays on hits in the world's series that would have gone for safe ones if another shortstop was there. He has been playing that kind of baseball for five years. I think McGraw was right when he said that Wagner killed balls that went his way. He is aggressive and a great man to get base runners stealing second. He is one of the best shortstops in the business."

Tris Speaker is telling the fans at his home town at Hubbard City, Texas, about some things in the world's series, and here is where he gave Matty a great boost: "I regard Mathewson as one of the greatest pitchers in the history of the national game, and he worked superbly in the face of heartbreaking support. McGraw showed us, too, that he is a wonderful general on the field and knows how to get the best possible results from his men. I am not in a position to hazard a guess as to the outcome of the National league next year, but the Giants have a strong organization and will no doubt be up in the running. I see no reason why the Boston Americans should not repeat next year, and in my opinion they will do so. I expect to play with the Boston club next year, and, in fact, as long as I am in baseball."

There is no doubt that Bill Dahlen will start with Smith at third base next season, and there is no doubt that Smith will stay there. He looks to be the worthy citizen to play that bag. The red-headed player played a good game when he was in there, and was taken out to give Kilpatrick a chance. The latter did not look as good as Smith. It is believed that Smith would be a whale with a winning team. The way he hits the ball will make him a steady man at third base.

Poor Scores Ruled In Bowling League

The Straus Specials broke the clean slate of the Barren Broncbas Friday night when these two teams hooked up in battle at Ye Old Mill alleys. The Specials won the first game, admittedly being the first defeat the Broncbas have suffered this year. After copping the opening game the Specials fell away to nothing and the Barrenites captured the last two.

The Play House Kids were badly humped by the United aggregation at the Play House alleys, losing two out of three.

The scores made last night were very mediocre and just what is the matter with the bowlers no one seems to know. Here's the dope in figures:

DE ORO STILL POOL KING

After completing a successful defense of his championship pool title last Saturday night in the third and last round of his set-to with Frank Sherman, the Washington challenger, Alfredo De Oro announced that he is considering an offer to play his next title match in his native city of Havana, Cuba.

It has been sixteen years since De Oro visited his native land, and the Cubans are so anxious to see him wield a cue that a syndicate of sporting men in Havana have made a bid for the champion's match with James Maturo of Denver, which will be played late in December.

Friel To Manage The St. Paul Team

Columbus, O., Nov. 16.—In a deal perfectly satisfactory to Manager William Friel and the Columbus club owners, leader of the Senators for over two seasons, was Wednesday night sold to the St. Paul club. The deal was made with the proper spirit on all sides, and the manager who gave Columbus first division ball will come here in the spring leader of a rival club with the best of feeling against his former employers. It is believed that the deal will do all good. Situations often arise in baseball where changes are beneficial and the worst that can be said is that Friel outlived his usefulness here, but leaves just the same with a host of friends.

What now interests Columbus fans more than anything else is, Who will succeed Friel? There has been a rumor around Columbus for several weeks that William Hinchman, the sterling outfielder, will be elevated to the managerial job. Good, consistent effort for his employers will warrant his elevation. Whether he cares to assume the worries of a manager is not known. It is certain that a good man can be secured here if Hinchman is not elevated, for Columbus is one of the most desirable managerial berths in the minor leagues.

Hugh Duffy has had some talk with Bobby Quinn at Milwaukee about the position. It is not known just how far negotiations have gone. Duffy had anything but a fair trial at Milwaukee.

Salary Fixed For Minor League Men

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 16.—The question of maximum salary limits affecting baseball teams which are members of the National Association of Professional Baseball clubs, was disposed of last night when all classes with the exception of Class AA reported to the convention as follows:

Class A, $3,600 per month.

Class B, $2,500, with the exception of the Northwestern league, which, it was agreed, should be allowed $3,000 additional.

Class C, $1,500.

Class D, $1,200.

These amounts did not include the salaries of managers. If the manager also holds a playing position an arrangement can be made whereby he may be allowed a certain amount as a player and an additional compensation as manager.

The clubs embraced in Class AA—the American association, Pacific Coast league and International league—sent in a sealed report, and it is understood have agreed upon a limit, but as none of the representatives of these clubs was present when the reports were read at the meeting, the amount of salary limit was not made public.

A motion was adopted providing that the secretaries of all leagues report to the national secretary by February 15, 1913, upon individual players in their respective leagues.

A number of proposed amendments to the constitution relating to the protection of club owners and players were introduced by Bobby Quinn of Columbus, O., and referred to the committee on revision.

Announcement was made yesterday that "Bill" Friel, who had led the Columbus, O., club through three seasons, had signed with George Lennon, owner of the St. Paul American association team, as manager for next season.

WILL NOW TWIRL LATHER.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—"King" Cole, former star pitcher for the Chicago Cubs, signed a contract yesterday as manager of a barber shop in a down-town office building. Cole came from the South Michigan league to the Chicago Nationals in 1910. He was traded to Pittsburg in 1912. It recently was announced that he had been sold to an American association club, but Cole was a barber in Iowa when he began his baseball career.

SAY O'BRIEN TO HEAD NATION'L

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 16.—Joe B. O'Brien, who yesterday retired as secretary of the New York National league club, is today being hailed on all sides as the next president of the National league. He modestly declines to discuss the matter, but all his friends insist that he has been selected as the successor of Thomas J. Lynch.

Sunday Services

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Charles S. Robertson, Pastor

Bible school at 9, W. W. Gates, Jr., superintendent. The school lacked only 7 of the 600 mark last Sunday. If all who were present last week will surely come tomorrow, there will be enough new scholars to pass 600. Let regularity of attendance be our motto. Worship by families at 10:30, when the pastor will continue the sermons on great themes for the edification of the church, taking the special theme for the morning, "From the Center to Every Point of the Circumference." In the evening the pastor will begin a series of sermons on "The Family," and try to present some surely needed truths, taking for the first subject, "Courtship." Young men and women are especially invited to these services, for the thoughts will be of much value to all ages and classes. Everyone is welcome; our sittings are free. It will pay you well to worship with us. The music of the day will be:

—Morning.—

Organ Prelude, "Pastorales," F minor and G major—Eduard Batiste.

Anthem, "Canticene," from "Galla" Motif by Gounod.

Offertoire, "Gavotte from Mignon"—Ambroise Thomas.

Offertoire Anthem, Duet, "Down By the Living Waters"—Miss Lydia Appel and Mrs. Clarence Nodler Mercedante.

Organ Postlude, Grand Chorus and March from Tannhauser—Wagner.

—Evening.—

This being Home Mission week, it is requested that the members of the church and congregation, as well as the general public, avail themselves of this opportunity to hear these subjects discussed, which are of vital importance. Services each evening at 7:15, from Monday to Saturday, inclusive.

The following is the order of services and topics to be presented at the Central Presbyterian church, beginning Nov. 11th and continuing throughout the week. This being Home Mission week, it is requested that the members of the church and congregation, and the general public avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing these live topics discussed. Topics suggested by the Home Missions Council:

Sunday, Nov. 17, at 10 a. m., "Our Country's Debt to Christ."

Sunday, Nov. 17, at 7 p. m., "Units in Making Our Country God's Country."

Monday, Nov. 18, at 7:15 p. m., "American Indians, Africans and Asiatics."

Tuesday, Nov. 19, at 7:15 p. m., "The Frontier and the Island Possessions."

Wednesday, Nov. 20, 7:15 p. m., "The Immigrants."

Thursday, Nov. 21, 7:15 p. m., "The Rural Regions and the City."

Friday, Nov. 22, 7:15 p. m., "American Social Problems," embracing women and children in industry, Saloon and Temperance Reform, Labor, Mormonism, etc.

Saturday, Nov. 23, 7:15 p. m., "Prayer and Fellowship."

Sunday, Nov. 24, at 10 a. m., "Our Country's Opportunity for Christ."

Sunday, Nov. 24, at 7 p. m., "Unity in Making Our Country God's Country."

Bright, cheerful singing at all the services. The whole service each evening will occupy one hour of your time. No offerings taken during the week. Those desirous of giving a donation for missions can, however, do so.

Twenty-fourth Sunday after Trinity.

Holy Communion at 7 a. m.

Sunday school at 9 a. m.

Morning prayer and sermon at 10:30 a. m.

Evensong and sermon at 7.

At morning prayer the rector will make the second address in the series of three, preparatory to the launching of the Forward Movement in this parish. His subject will be, "What We Are Doing; a brief statement of the work of the church at home and abroad."

Let all show their desire to be informed and their interest in this movement by being present on Sunday morning. Let us have a really large congregation present. The "Forward Movement" is everybody's business.

At the evening service the rector will preach an old-fashioned, expository sermon on "The Privilege of Being Strong."

After the morning service two most important leaflets will be distributed to all present. Do not leave the church without yours.

Friends and strangers are always welcome at All Saints church. All seats are free. Sit where you please.

Those desiring to speak with the rector are requested to remain for a few moments after the close of the service, or to leave their names and addresses with one of the ushers, when the rector will gladly call on them.

KENDALL AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH
F. A. Maier, Pastor

Pearl Wells Sunday school superintendent.

Here are a few reasons for attending the Sunday services:

First—Because God says not to forsake the assembling of ourselves together.

Second—Because of the interesting lessons taught by competent teachers at 9.

Third—You will hear a message of interest at 10:15 by the pastor.

The evening service at 7 will be especially helpful to the young. Theme, "Youthful Religion."

The church prayer meeting Wednesday evening.

The cottage prayer meeting Friday evening.

BEN HUR ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED LAST NIGHT

The local tribe of Ben Hur fittingly celebrated its twelfth anniversary Friday night. The celebration was held in the Ben Hur hall, Fifth and Chillicothe streets, and the affair was a pleasant event, the exercises being greatly enjoyed by the big crowd present.

The program, which was featured by interesting addresses by Gilbert Howell, of Crawfordsville, Ind., who is editor of the Ben Hur organ; Col. Edward Bryson, of Covington, Ky., a member of the supreme executive committee, and J. C. Foster, state manager, was interspersed with excellent music. The initiatory exercises which preceded the speaking, added six members to the roster of the tribe, which is growing and is in a prosperous condition.

IS ONE STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

The celebrated Dr. Abernethy of London was firmly of the opinion that disorders of the stomach were the most prolific source of human ailments in general. A recent medical writer says: "every feeling, emotion and affection reports at the stomach (through the system of nerves) and the stomach is affected accordingly. It is the vital center of the body." He continues, "so we may be said to live (through) the stomach." He goes on to show that the stomach is the vital center of the body. For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no medicine can be better suited as a curative agent than

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"Several months ago I suffered from a severe pain right under the breast-bone," writes Mrs. G. M. MORRIS, of Corona, Calif. "Had suffered from it, off and on, for several years. I also suffered from heart-burn, did not know what was the matter with me. I tried several medicines but they did me no good. Finally, I was told it was my liver. I did not dare to eat as it made me worse. When-ever I swallowed anything it seemed that I would faint—it hurt so. I grew very thin and weak from not eating. Was told to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took two bottles of it, and could feel myself getting better from the first dose. I could eat a little without pain and grew strong fast. To-day I am strong and well and can do a big day's work with ease. Can eat everything and have put on flesh wonderfully. I will say to all sufferers write to Dr.

Carving Sets

—For the reason that a really good set is so seldom met with, even in homes that have other necessities up to the standard. We know the reason.

The average carving set is either (1) clumsy, large, badly balanced—(2) light, flimsy, without an edge.

Our carving sets, being above the average, sustain every requirement. They are shapely, handsome, fit the hand and have such excellent steel in them that the turning of an edge is rare. They take a quick edge and hold it for long service.

We will demonstrate. Make us.

If There Was a Better $1000 Car Than a Paige We Would Be Selling Them

That is the way we regard the Paige cars and if you will give us an opportunity to demonstrate its many good points we know we can convince you also. The Paige cars are not freaks or experiments, nor built to catch the business of a year. They have been leaders in their class, and in a class that costs $200 per car more, for several years. They are better than ever for 1913.

The $1,000 Paige

Is a complete car. It is built to run with the least possible outlay by the owner. No big garage bills if you have a Paige. It has everything needed for your comfort.

AMERICA IS LEADING IN TRUCKS

That America leads all other countries in the application of the motor truck is the report of William P. Kennedy, chief of the Alco transportation coast bureau, after a two months' trip to England and France, where he visited the principal cities and made a careful study of motor truck conditions.

"An American visiting Europe quickly notes the lack of motor trucks in London and Paris," declares Mr. Kennedy. "Many of the trucks in and around London are steam trucks, having large smoke-stacks in front and almost always used in conjunction with a trailer. The British government in the mail delivery service is more progressive; they use gasoline trucks.

"The merchants in our Eastern cities are far in advance of the foreign merchants in the application of the motor truck. Executives and merchants interested in the development of the motor truck abroad readily admit that they are watching our progress with great interest, believing that we are world beaters in the application of the motor truck—just as we have proven to be in the manufacture of motor cars in quantity.

"Europe leads in the use of the bus, with London predominating. There are also a few large installations of motor tucks having a capacity of less than a ton. They are what we call package vehicles.

"The lack of motor trucks in London is believed to be the fault of the manufacturers themselves. They enter to the trade with colonies where the demand is immediate and do not go to the expense of creating a market in their own country."

Adjustable Seats The Latest Novelty

An adjustable rear seat is the motor car novelty this fall. It is probably the greatest single advance toward increased comfort that could have been made, for, however easy riding a car may be, the passenger's enjoyment depends a great deal on his sitting position. And that is a matter of leg room and seat angle.

The ordinary type of seat is built with the "average person" in mind. Just who this average person is, few people have ever been able to tell, but it is the experience of nearly everybody that what fits or suits the "average person" won't do so well for ordinary mortals.

In designing their new car, which they intend for an epoch-maker, the Stevens-Duryea engineers gave special attention to ease, and J. Frank Duryea got the idea of the adjustable rear seat into his mind. You pick out one particular chair in a room because it "rests your back most" or "fits your legs best."

What could add more to your enjoyment of motoring, when you haven't the same opportunity to "get up and move around," than a seat you could adjust in whatever position you liked best? A seat you could make into any kind of a chair, as it were, without even getting up out of it, just by turning a little whel handle, down out of the way but within arm's reach?

The result of Duryea's ingenuity is a feature of the new C-Six Stevens-Duryea, which has just made its appearance. It is one of th features which make builders point to the C-Six as the easiest riding car ever produced. It is another example of Duryea's "pioneering," for it's the first thing of the kind. In the opinion of motor car experts it's the most important automobile novelty for a long time.

STUDEBAKER

The Great Announcement Of The Year.

From a selling point of view consider that behind these marvelous cars are the largest factories in the industry, a liberal and far-sighted sales organization, and an advertising campaign which will lead the field. To both owner and dealer the Studebaker policy is one of thorough co-operation.

The Six Passenger body on the "35" and "Six" is the most important body design of the year. Four passengers, the average touring car load, are here made far more comfortable than in the ordinary five passenger car. Yet, if you choose, six passengers ride with ease in the new Studebaker cars. It gives an owner more than a moderate priced car ever did before.

The three motors are all exceedingly quiet and with long stroke crank shaft develop power considerably in excess of their rating.

Notice how complete is the equipment. The same care has been exercised in every detail of construction.

In their extraordinary value we are certain that the announcement of these cars will mark another mile-stone in the advance of the industry. Our year's production will be 50,000 cars, but the present demand is running proportionately far beyond that. Early buyers will be fortunate.

The name Studebaker is on these cars and explains, as no other name can, their remarkable value, and the confidence which every buyer may well place in them.

NEVER LOOKS AT MOTOR

He who maintains that there is no personality in inanimate things, never owned a motor car. Among men who drive it is a common knowledge that every little auto has a foible all its own. Whether real or imaginary, these idiosyncracies are religiously cherished by most motorists.

A striking example of this fanciful tendency has come to light through the visit of a Studebaker service man to Nyack, N. Y. In making the rounds of Studebaker car owners and co-operating with them in keping their cars up to top efficiency, the man called on Judge Tompkins, one of the town's most prominent citizens.

Judge Tompkins told the service man his Studebaker was running perfectly and had needed no attention since its purchase. As they talked the service man walked around to the "business side" of the motor and started to lift the hood.

"Desist!" yelled Judge Tompkins. Then he pushed the Studebaker man away from the car and buttoned the hood down again.

The expert assured the urist he had intended no offense. Judge Tompkins admitted he might have semed touchy and explained.

"It's just a little fetish of mine," he said. "That hood has never been lifted since I bought the car, and I don't want to break my luck. I've driven it a good many thousand miles and don't even know what the motor looks like. Furthermore, young man, I don't want to know."

At last reports Judge Tompkins was standing pat on his car's pet foible, his acquaintance with the Studebaker motor being still based, as he expresses it, solely on circumstantial evidence.

LOVE BEFORE AND AFTER MARRIAGE

Warns Against Frozen Radiator

"These cool nights and nippy mornings ought to make the car owner think of his cooling system and how to keep it from freezing up, if he intends using his car during the winter," says a local auto dealer.

"It is well to put a good anti-freeze solution into the radiator in good time. It should be remembered that the water in the cooling system, particularly in the cylinder jackets and the pump, and in some types of radiator, lies in thin sheets. Thus it freezes more readily than a larger bulk of water would. So the anti-freeze solution should not be neglected too long.

"It isn't much of a trick to prepare the cooling system for the winter. Of course, it must be thoroughly drained, and it is a good idea to flush it out while the radiator drain cocks are open. This can be done by inserting a hose in the radiator filler stem and turning the water on. It will be really surprising to see the rusty red color of the water that gushes forth, carrying sediment with it.

"When the water system has been cleansed, refill it with a solution composed of two parts of alcohol, either denatured or wood, and one part water. This will not freeze, even at 20 degrees below zero. But it must be remembered that alcohol evaporates, and that on refilling the radiator every few days, equal parts of alcohol and water should be used.

"If glycerine is mixed with the alcohol, the cold-resisting properties of the solution remain the same and new glycerine need not be added because the glycerine does not evaporate. But don't forget to add fresh alcohol. This is more expensive than plain water, to be sure; but it is an economy compared with the cost of replacing a cylinder or repairing a radiator that has been burst by freezing."

Care Of The Radiator

W. J. Friel, local auto dealer, furnishes the following data regarding the care of the radiator during the coming winter:

In filling the cooling system, remember that when cylinders become heated the water expands and that sufficient room must be allowed to take care of this expansion.

Do not fill the radiator to the filling nozzle. If you do, the expansion will force the water out around the filler cap and cause it to run over the top of radiator, giving it a dirty, rusty appearance. Frequently when this condition prevails, people are under the impression that the water has boiled from overheating, when, as a matter of fact, it is simply the result of not allowing for the water's expansion, which, of course, always takes place when the cylinders become heated.

Put in only enough water to bring the level to an inch or an inch and a half above the top of the radiator tubes. This will give ample room for expansion. Care in connection with this detail will save you considerable annoyance.

When mud has been splashed upon the radiator and becomes caked on the tubes or fills up the cells, it should be washed off with hose and water until the radiator is clean. If this is neglected, radiation is defeated, the water will boil and run out of the system and the motor cannot be expected to perform satisfactorily. Be careful not to get water on plugs, wires or magneto while using the hose.

Mitchell Cars Are Everywhere

(Contributed.)

No matter what country one may visit he is sure to find American products. In my travels through Brazil, Argentine and up the Chilian coast American-made products are always in evidence.

After the close of the durbar in India, at the ceremonies of which I found several American-made automobiles, I left for a trip through Afghanistan. From Bombay, where there are literally hundreds of cars that were built in the United States, I went by train through the northern interior of India, passing through Delhi once more, then to Amritsar, Haldarabad, Gandava and Quitta on the border of Afghanistan. From the last named city the route to Kanadahar was by river barge. From this point to Kabul, the capital, was by caravan.

After leaving the railroad at Quitta all that I saw was, indeed primitive, and I felt that at least I had found one country that Uncle Sam's manufacturers had not invaded. In this, however, I was to be agreeably disappointed as, on visiting the British barracks, I found Captain G. P. Saunders enjoying a ride in his Mitchell car which he had received but a month before. I graciously accepted an invitation to ride with him and the experience was a novel one indeed. There surely was a great contrast between this modern car and the primitive vehicles used by the native Afghanistans. Its presence attracted much attention and will, no doubt, lead to the general introduction of motor cars among the well-to-do of that country.

PAIGE $1,000 CARS LEADERS IN CLASS

Indications are that much of the bulk of the automobile sales next year will be in cars of the $1,000 and $1,200 class. At that price the discriminating buyer can get a car that will answer all purposes, giving splendid service, with little cost as far as upkeep of car and expense of running are concerned. But the buyer must beware that he does not buy a car that is built to catch the unwary, and which will be a source of endless expense and annoyance.

Messrs. Shump and Worthington, of the Portsmouth Automobile and Machine Company, are pushing the Paige as their $1,000 leader and claim for it not only the lead in its class, but equality with cars that cost more.

"If there is a better car made for $1,000 I do not know of it," said Mr. Shump, this morning. "The Paige agency was taken by our company after canvassing the automobile markets, and visiting the leading factories. We had but one aim, to get the best for the money. We selected the Paige."

Mr. Shump received word this week that the Paige people will give purchasers the option of full nickel trimmings and will give a speedometer free. This makes the car complete in every way.

BIG PAY DAY

The Portsmouth Steel company had the biggest pay day in the history of the local plant Saturday, as many as the employes had three weeks' pay coming to them. It is said that more than $40,000 was distributed among the employes.

This will prove a great stimulant to business and local merchants will have an extra force of clerks on duty tonght to expeditiously handle the army of buyers, who are sure to visit their stores.

Big Crowd Wanted At Christian Church

One thousand!

That is the attendance mark set by Charles M. Howland, superintendent of the First Christian church Sunday school tomorrow.

It is a pretty high mark, but can be reached, providing the members of the school buckle on the armour and get busy.

The attendance has been gradually creeping up toward the four figure mark, and there will really be no excuse for a falling off tomorrow as the weather man has promised a day of sunshine.

Rev. J. L. Finnell, of Lexington, Ky., will be here to substitute for Rev. Crayton S. Brooks, who is holding a successful revival at the Central Christian church at Lexington, Ky. Rev. Finnell is a thorough student of the bible and will no doubt thoroughly instruct the big adult class. He is a brilliant young minister and should be greeted by a large crowd. He will conduct the bible study and will deliver an address at both the morning and evening church services.

Supt. Howland is banking on a splendid showing by the intermediate department. He has hopes that this department will live up to the promise made last Sunday, when the superintendent of this department pledged an increased attendance of not less than 25 per cent. The superintendent will read a report of the percentage attendance of the various classes at the close of the bible study hour.

Then that orchestra!

Two new members tomorrow—Messrs. Phillips and Randall. The former will play the cornet, while the latter will make the drums beat a merry taleo.

Come out tomorrow!

Remember, it is a cordial welcome that awaits you!

CHANGES AT STEEL CO.

Henry Shroyer, who for some months past has been night superintendent of the sheet and jobbing mills at the Portsmouth steel plant, has resigned, and has gone to Cambridge to take employment.

William Holliday, of New Philadelphia, who has been employed in the Whittaker-Glessner Creek mills at Wheeling, has succeeded to Mr. Shroyer's position.

Twinges of rheumatism, backache, stiff joints and shooting pains all show your kidneys are not working right. Urinary irregularities, loss of sleep, nervousness, weak back and sore kidneys tell the need of a good reliable kidney medicine. Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and restorative. They build up the kidneys and regulate their action. They will give you quick relief and contain no habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, Sixth and Chillicothe.

Mr. Veach In City

Samuel V. Veach, a former resident of this city, spent a few hours in Portsmouth Friday on his way back to Lexington, where he is engaged in the shoe business. He was at one time head clerk for the late Will A. Connolley and Taylor Robinson.

Home For Sunday.

John Neadoerfer, who travels for the Portsmouth Steel company, is in the city to remain over Sunday. He makes his headquarters in Cincinnati.

Will Petry and family moved from the Joe Frantz property on Market street Friday to the new home they purchased on Union street.

Playing Ironton Team

Fifteen juvenile players, composing the Ironton junior football team, arrived in the city over the N. & W. Saturday morning to clash with the Portsmouth juniors. The two teams clashed on the Millbrook gridiron this afternoon.

At Ironton last Saturday when the two teams met, the local eleven was defeated in a close game by the score of 13 to 6. In order to secure revenge the local boys have been practicing hard all week and trotted onto the field this afternoon a much stronger aggregation. The stage fright, which partially paralyzed the Portsmouth boys, owing to the game being the first away from home, has departed them and they are brimful of confidence.

The Demons of the Swamp

are mosquites. As they sting they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength fails; also malaria often paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucasville, N. C., "three bottles drove all the malaria from my system, and I've had good health ever since." Best for all stomach, liver and kidney ills. 50 cents at The Fisher & Streich Pharmacy.

Rehearsal Is Held

The Club members, who will give a minstrel at the Grand on December 31, held their first rehearsal on Friday night under the direction of E. E. Knox. John Kahmer and Forest Davidson will be the premier end men. Among the soloists will be Chester Riggles.

Big Time For Elks

Cards to the Elks' initiation and banquet next Wednesday night were received by members of this order, Saturday. It will be a big night in Elkdom and the largest attendance of the year is looked for. Charles Taggert and Will Adams are arranging the banquet.

Missionary Meeting Has Come To Close

The early morning trains Saturday carried the last delegates away from the Ohio conference of the Woman's Home Missionary Society which held a two days' session in Bigelow church.

Much of the program scheduled for Friday afternoon had to be curtailed because of many of the officers desiring to leave on earlier trains.

Rev. A. E. Hartford, superintendent of the Children's Home at Worthington, gave a short address during the closing hours of the convention. The home at Worthington is the only one of its kind in Ohio Methodism, and much interest has always been felt in it. The Catholics have 246 such homes and Superintendent Hartford asked the Methodists to give more toward homes of its kind.

Miss Ella Ely was appointed a member of the executive board to represent the W. H. M. S. at the Worthington Home.

Mrs. Snede and Mrs. Lady were appointed members of the press committee.

The following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt thanks to the members of Bigelow church of Portsmouth for the very cordial invitation to hold the annual meeting here. To all who have extended hospitality or added comfort in any way to the delegates. We thank the organist, the pianist, the president, and hope it will prove a blessing to the church as well as to the delegates, and that the auxiliary will take on new enthusiasm in the work, and enter into the best year of its existence.

Respectfully,
Mrs. B. D. Collin,
Miss Ella Trout,
Committee.

Chance To Shiver.

Here is one that will give you the shivers—a open-face street car was seen on Chillicothe street this morning. No, it carried no passengers, being enroute to the barn, where it will be introduced to a paint brush.

is good through and through. Good because absolutely pure, clean and wholesome. Good because free from all harmful bacteria. Good because of the care that enters into its making and the time allowed for it to reach the ripeness of full maturity. But finally good because it is so delicious to the taste. Try it.

"Rough Riders" Vs The Steam Rollers

Tomorrow will witness the fourth engagement between the "Rough Riders" and "Steam Rollers" of the big Men's Bible Class at Trinity. The "Steam Rollers" have won all three preceding engagements, and are still holding out at Adrianople and the forts of the Tchatalja, but their lines are closely invested and the "Rough Riders" are supremely confident they will be able to take the works before the powers intervene.

Not much war news is to be had from either camp, as the censor is working overtime, but enough has leaked out to show that tomorrow's engagement will be the stellar one of the entire contest. Reinforcements have been hurried to the front by the "Rough Riders," and they will be heard from tomorrow.

"I'm not saying a word for publication," said Commander L. G. Scott, of the "Rough Riders," "but we'll 'lick' 'em."

"What are you trying to butt in for!" said Dr. O. D. Donaldson, one of the "Rough Rider" lieutenants. "Do you suppose we're going to give our plan of attack away! Not much."

Col. George L. Pake, was the only pleasant "Rough Rider" to be found. "I read the other day," said he, "that the way to make a dog savage was to feed him gunpowder mixed with red peppers. I believe I'll try some of that dope on our fellows."

"Nothing to give out," said Col. Park Mills, the high chief of the "Steam Rollers," "except we'll 'lick' that push to a frazzle again, and we'll do a big job this time, too."

All those prize "Steam Rollers," Messrs. McMillan, Shumway, Donaldson and others are still doing the expanded chest stunt.

There will be special numbers on the musical program, and the lesson will be an unusually good one. Prof. Jas. H. Finney, the able teacher, expects an attendance of something like 300 tomorrow—and the contest is only beginning to warm up.

Everybody welcome. Come and help the big Bible Class win the state record. It's worth while.

Mr. Kinsey will write on the Boy Scout movement, applying the articles locally. His first subject will be "The Need of the Boy Scouts;" second, "The Aim;" third, "The Teaching," (part one); fourth, "Teachings" (part two), and fifth, "Local Results."

Mr. Kinsey has made a thorough study of the subject and his articles will not only be of interest to the American boy but they will be just as entertaining to the grown-ups.

ROAD WORK IS STOPPED

Work on the Fallen Timber road in Madison township has been temporarily suspended, pending a settlement of a dispute between Richard Wells and the county commissioners over the location of the road through the Wells farm.

The commissioners ordered the route of the road changed from the original view so as to eliminate the building of four bridges, which means a saving of at least $4,000 to the county.

The commissioners propose to follow the old road along the creek as far as practicable instead of hugging the hill, and by so doing but two bridges will be necessary. Wells is threatening to institute injunction proceedings in the court to compel the commissioners to construct the road over the original view.

Stops Pain in the Bladder, Kidneys and Back.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say goodbye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches; the stitches and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness, spots before the eyes; yellow skin; sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids or ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, K-1351 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies, but it has great healing and pain-conquering power.

It will quickly show its power once you use it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.

BREAKS COLD IN FEW HOURS

After the very first dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" you distinctly feel the cold breaking and all the disagreeable grippe symptoms leaving.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken will cure Grippe or break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

It promptly ends the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this wonderful Compound with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—it contains no quinine—be sure you get what you ask for—accept no substitute—belongs in every home. Tastes nice—acts gently.

FICTION BY THE BEST WRITERS

CIRCUS FOLKS

By Arthur W. Brown

COPYRIGHT 1909

I'VE always heard that circus people are a pretty tough lot, and then traveling around the country and sleeping in those tents must make it a mighty hard life." These are samples of the bromides that you hear if you are a circus man, or have, in any way, been connected with a tented show. They constitute the average person's idea of circus life. You listen to them time and time again, but you easily get consolation when you think of your comfortable berth in the Pullman sleeper down in the railroad yards, and you get a hungry

A CORNER IN THE DRESSING TENT

This tent is divided into three sections. In one the men dress, another is the dressing room of the women, and in the third part the ring stock is kept during the performance. Nearly every day you can hear the men engaged in some lengthy argument which generally ensues when a female voice from the other side of the canvas wall says something similar to "Say, Jim (or whatever her husband's name happens to be), can that talk, you're drowning out the band" feeling for the good old square meals in the cook tent. When it comes to the circus folk, that big-hearted family, you feel kind of sorry for your questioner. They are so misunderstood; in fact the circus as a whole is very much misunderstood.

Not so long ago when the farmer went to "the big show" he kept his weather eye out all the time, and his hand on the bank-roll in his pocket every second; but even at the chance he thought he was taking he could not keep away. Most all of us were like the farmer, for when circus day came around, there we were on "the lot," expecting to be buncoed on every side.

Now conditions have changed, and women and children can go to the performance feeling sure there will be nothing to shock their morals or empty their pocket-books. The circus, after years of hard work, has rid itself of the bad reputation of the old wagon-show days. It has grown to be a big clean business organization, just the same as a rough little mining camp develops in time into a modern city.

There must be a small percentage of people in America for whom the circus has no fascination. The old, as well as the young, although they sometimes won't admit it, always start to get a little excited just before circus day. I think the most fascinating part is the mystery that surrounds the whole affair. The circus arrives at the crack of dawn from somewhere, and at night steals away to somewhere else. The tents go up, we see the parade and the performance, we wonder how the performers learnt their acts, wonder how they got into the business, wonder where the freaks came from originally—in fact it is a case of wonder, wonder, all the time, and we seldom find out.

Circus people live in a little world by themselves and are divided into two classes—those who were born in the business, and those who just happened to drift in. I am talking about the performers now. Almost all of them come from circus families, and do either riding or acrobatic work generation after generation. Frank Melville, who at the time of his death in November, 1908, was equestrian director at the New York Hippodrome, was of the fifth generation of a family of performers. Practically all the best performers now before the public have come from about twenty different families. The majority of the best "artists" (all performers are known by that term) with the big circuses are foreigners. The performers are nearly all related in some way. In fact, it is very hard for a lone woman to "join out" with the show. Each circus has its special cure for boys with the circus fever. The reason for this is that the American circus demands the best that can be found in all parts of the world, and has no room for apprentices or beginners such as are found in the small Continental shows. The management is always on the lookout for novelties and while people say "A circus is always the same year in and year out," it is radically changed every season.

The morals of circus folk are of the highest, and in comparison to a comic opera troupe, they are like a big Sunday-school class. This may be a surprise to the public at large, but it is true. About the greatest dissipation the men indulge in is cigarettes, and the women have none of which I can think unless it is ice-cream soda, or a piece of pie and a glass of milk at the railroad station after the show. It is easy to see the reason for this when you consider the clear head and steady nerves needed for what they have to do twice a day. Take the Clark Brothers, aërialists, known professionally as the Clarkonians. Ernest, the younger of the two, is the only man in the world who can turn a double somersault and a twister in the air. They began when they were seven years old and have been working at it from five to seven hours a day ever since. They neither drink nor smoke, and are two fine specimens of young English manhood. The Clarks came from an old circus family, but the case of "Slivers" (Frank Oakley), America's premier clown, is just the opposite.

Frank Oakley was working in an architect's office in Chicago when the lure of the big show got to him. He ran away—it's the same old story—joined a little one-ring show; but he was not stereotyped like the other clowns, and had ideas of his own, and to-day he has a score of imitators and is known in two hemispheres. He says the only way out of the circus business after getting in it, is to die out. I have often sat by Slivers's trunk in the dressing tent and watched him as he made up with the greatest care. He never seemed to tire of it. He had the coy habit of wearing pink underclothes, and to see him standing there, long and lank, before his little four inch by six mirror, making up that solemn black mouth of his, would make an undertaker snicker. "Don't you ever get tired of it and 'stall' a little?" I asked. "No," he would say, "because when I get out there and hand the 'simps' a bunch of laughs, I get as much fun out of it as drawing my pay envelope on Wednesdays." Whenever he was going to try a little new stuff, he always used to come up to me and whisper confidentially: "Say, Brown, be out in the front this afternoon. I am going to put a new one over, and I'll hand you a laugh." It was not conceit; it was simply that he believed in himself.

Spader Johnson, another clever clown, was originally a minstrel man before he joined out with the big show. His wife is a rider and they spend their winters in a comfortable home in Brooklyn, "with no mortgage on it, either," Spader used to say as he proudly showed the pictures of it in an album he carried around with him in his trunk.

The circus women are great at sewing. They are working at it every spare moment. After supper, every wagon tongue has a woman seated on it, working away for dear life at some sort of embroidery or crocheting which will eventually find a place in their winter homes.

To show you in what a fearless, matter-of-fact manner some of them regard the dangerous work they do daily, I want to tell you about Lily Allen, an English girl who was a high trapeze performer. Every day, away up in the "big top" she would swing to and fro in mid air, and it did not mean any more to her than walking across the street does to us. One night she went to an amusement park with some friends. When they wanted her to shoot the chutes, there was nothing doing. She would not think of it; she was scared stiff. She simply could not understand how people could do it, and when it came to the loop-the-loop, all the money in creation would not budge her.

Circus people are very superstitious. Tom Lawson's book would not be one of the best sellers with them. Friday is their big hoodoo, and on this account the late James A. Bailey used to make all his important moves on that day, to try and break them of the superstition. Frederic Thompson of Hippodrome fame, and a great showman, considers Friday the 13th his lucky day.

Just a paragraph about their slang, and then I want to tell you about the circus itself. All the women are dames; a man who forgets his change at the ticket wagon is a walkaway; the farmers are called rubes, simps, and yaps; the managing director is known as the main guy (this term probably came from the main guy rope that supports the center pole in the big top). The show ground is always the lot, and the tents are always tops. The side show is the kid show, and the lecturers are spellers and ballyhoos. The men who sell peanuts and lemonade are butchers. When you stall you are not working very hard. Your trunk is a keester and your suit case a turkey. Speak to them of bulls and they know you mean elephants. All the circus booklets are known as soft stuff. (This edition each season is 5,400,000 copies. Wouldn't that make some of the authors of best sellers green with envy)? The circus seats are divided into reserved and blues (the last get their name from their color). The pork chop fund is the money saved to tide them over the winter.

Cut the foregoing paragraph out and paste it in your hat, and you will be able to talk fluently with the next circus man you meet.

The circus has one of the greatest systems on earth. Its organization is complete in every detail. To begin with, the Barnum show, which is now controlled by the Ringlings, has a large suite of offices in New York, where during the winter the summer campaign is thought out and arranged; the condition of the country is carefully looked into; what the crops have been in certain sections, and whether storms, washouts, or cyclones have been visitors. Because the circus cannot afford to run any risks that may retard it in its progress. It has to keep moving, and although a cyclone may blow down the tents and stampede the elephants, or a washout may interfere with its transportation, in a very short time it is on the way again with the wonderful system pushing it on.

The managers look carefully into the State and municipal laws governing licenses, and find out the price of food for employees and animals in different sections. The periods of plowing and harvesting in different localities have to be reckoned with also. The transportation question is a serious one and the route depends greatly on the cost and facilities. For instance, there is a little town in Vermont with a population of 1,500. Naturally you would imagine that a big circus would dodge such a small place, but it happens to be a junction for a number of railroads, and the circus can fill its tents afternoon and evening. A good show town is wherever there is good train or boat connection.

The dressing tent is at the back door

While the business end in the city is working out its problems for the coming season, there is a great deal going on at the winter quarters. Those of the Barnum and Bailey show are at Bridgeport, Conn., while the Ringling show winters at Baraboo, Wis., the birthplace of the owners. All the parade and animal wagons are repainted and gilded, the rolling stock is repaired, animals are rehearsed and taught new acts. In teaching the elephants new tricks, the young ones are very easily trained, but the old ones have a hard time, and are helped out with the aid of a steam winch and a block and tackle.

The season lasts about six months and during that time the circus travels nearly 12,000 miles. After the route has been carefully mapped out in the winter offices, the advertising cars start out, and the big show gets into Madison Square Garden for its brief city run before taking to the road. In the country towns the fences, barns, and the store windows begin to blazon forth with the gaudy show bills, "Five Big Shows in One," "Most Unparalleled, Unprecedented Performance," etc. You all know them, and they are not bluff at that. They give you more than your money's worth, and that is a certainty. For every bill that is posted, the ticket consideration is marked in the corner of it in cipher, and a report goes back to the show. A few days before the circus arrives, a mysterious stranger happens in town. His job is to see that all the paper is where it ought to be, and not replaced by a "Town Hall To-Night" or a "Strawberry Festival" bill. He makes notes of all the places where it ought to be and is not, and then when the passes are presented at the front door the holders are turned down.

It takes four trains of about twenty-five cars each to transport the big modern show. It must have a piece of ground to show on not less than ten acres, and it likes more, for it has twenty-six tents to spread out, and one of them seats fourteen thousand people. There has to be room to stable five hundred horses, a herd of elephants and a large assortment of wild animals. You ought to see the layer-out working on a small lot in the morning with the wagons coming on in quick succession. He is one of the wheels of the system and has to use his head quickly. Here is his problem. The front door and the side show have to come in the most accessible place for the crowds. The main entrance has to open into the menagerie, the menagerie has to open into the big top, the dressing tent has to be right behind the back door, the horse tents and wardrobe tents have to be near the dressing tent, so do the blacksmith tent and carpenter tent. Then the cook tent has to be within easy access to them all. When the show is going up, if you are an outsider, you wonder at the confusion. Everything seems to be dumped any old place, and the men look as if they were working in perfect chaos. But things are in the right places and every man has a certain duty to perform at a certain time. If he forgets that duty, or fails to do it, it only happens once. Some one else will be doing it who won't forget.

The lemonade and peanut trade brings in about $30,000 a season to a big circus

Circus discipline is very strict. When you are on the lot, you are at your place of business and cannot leave it without getting permission from your department boss. With his permission you can go, after telling him where you are going, and when you will be back. Drink and cards are barred. It is dismissal without another chance for these two. I remember once, a bull man, one of the best they had, got drunk one morning, and was in that condition during the parade. He got his pay envelope before twelve o'clock that day. They cannot afford to have a drunken keeper escorting a herd of elephants through streets crowded with women and children more than once. Another time, one of the star acts, a woman who drove a high-school horse in a two-wheeled decorated cart, and who had dogs who performed with her, acted in a way that did not please the management, and was let go without any notice. The rules and regulations are alike to the highest salaried performer down to the boys that wash dishes in the cook tent, and they have to be adhered to. A male performer caught talking to any outside woman is fined.

The main entrance must be easy of access

The eleven hundred people who go to make up the big circus are fed in the cook tent three times a day. The meals are plain, but good and wholesome, and after spending all day in the open air, one's appetite is pretty keen. You can send back your plate as often as you like, and a waiter is constantly passing behind the long rows of tables with "Here's your tea and coffee, gents." All you have to do is to put your cup over your shoulder and he fills it. Every one has the same bill of fare from which to choose, and the only difference is that the performers and office staff have table-cloths and china, while the canvas-men, razor-backs, grooms and drivers have oilcloth and agate-ware dishes. Fresh meat is waiting in each town and is supplied by a Chicago firm. The cook tent, waiters, and cooking paraphernalia all travel in the first section or Flying Squadron, as it is called. It makes the next stand before any of the other circus trains, and by the time the last or performers' section has pulled into the railroad yards, the cook tent is up with the meal flag flying from its center pole.

The biggest crooks that the circus has to deal with are not the pickpockets and the three-card monte men, but the grafting officials of the small municipalities. They charge exorbitant license fees, send in unlimited demands for passes, and as soon as the circus management registers a little kick, a pickpocket or some fool charge is cooked up and some poor circus unfortunate is hauled to court and fined. In one Southern town the license was so high that the circus showed just outside the town limits. The town officials, to get square, arrested every showman who poked his nose over the town line, on an alleged pickpocket charge. The consequence was that when night came they had no less than fifteen of them in the lockup. This was a little more than the manager could stand for, and being near the State Capital he went there the next day and laid the case before the Governor, who saw that an injustice had been done, and he made it rather warm for the officials.

Some of the schemes that are used to gain free admission are old and threadbare. "The roads have been injured by your heavy pole wagons," says the street commissioner. A few free seats and he is consoled. Then there is the policeman, the mayor's clerk, the alderman's brother, and endless others with large families, who think they are entitled to passes. Why, goodness only knows. The clergyman wants them; the man who lives next to the show grounds says they encroached on his land, and gets a few.

"Well, well, well! Here we are again"

It costs about $5,000 a day to keep a big circus going, so counting in about 1,100 free admissions, they figure that 13,000 people have to pass through the door before the profits start to come in.

The circus is a good register of the condition of the country; how they can tell whether times are good or bad is obvious. Some seasons a circus may not return anything on the investment, and perhaps operate at a loss, but a good season will make up. The circus is a fair weather show and a rainy spell makes a big hole in its receipts.

Selby Power Plant Is Magnificent One

Without a single minute's interruption to their extensive business, the Selby Shoe Company has installed one of the most thoroughly modern power plants in the country. It will be formally set in motion in the next two or three days, an expert from the East having been summoned to turn on the switch and to make the final inspection of the plant, which is a mechanical dream.

The engine has a 750 horsepower capacity and the plant is strictly up to date in every single instance. The boilers are fed automatically, the ashes are carried away through a similar arrangement, and there is no danger of too much steam being raised.

During the installation of the plant, the firm has not lost a minute of time, which is a pretty good record and one which they point to with pride.

REV. BROOKS PREACHED ON SUNDAY THEATRES

The Lexington (Ky.) Herald of Friday had the following account of a sermon delivered by Rev. Crayton S. Brooks, pastor of the First Christian church in this city, who is conducting a revival at the Central Christian church in that city. The subject of his sermon was, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

"At the beginning of the sermon he asked all the men present to arise. It was a surprise to see the great number in the audience. In his reference to a statement in the press to the effect that a boy thirteen years of age had visited the saloons of our city and had found no trouble in obtaining strong drink, and in his reference to the report that the picture shows here in Lexington run on Sundays, he said:

"'The reason I called upon you men to stand was that I might ask you as voters and as citizens, able to mould and express public sentiment, to stand against the violations of law in your midst. The mayor of Portsmouth, Ohio, my own city, is the owner of a theatre, but would not consent to open it on Sunday. If he should open on that day the thousands of consistent Christian people would not patronize him during the week.'

"Mr. Brooks said it would be easy for the law-loving and orderly people of Lexington to see that the laws and ordinances of the city are properly enforced if they would unite in demanding their enforcement, and that he was speaking from experience in the matter.

"The sermon aroused a great deal of interest and it was remarked that the church had made no mistake in inviting Mr. Brooks to conduct the present meeting."

BILLS WERE ALLOWED BY BOARD

The school board was in session just long enough Friday night to pass on a few bills. Architect Albert Pretzinger, of Dayton, was unable to be present with the plans for the Lincoln school building, which is to go up on the hilltop. A schedule amounting to $2,522.58 was allowed.

It included a plumbing bill of $1,400 from Schmidt & Watkins, and the Pack Mine Supply Company had a bill of $1,200 for supplies furnished for the new high school.

Ladies Society Re-roof Church

The Ladies' Aid of the Baptist church, Sciotoville, has recently put a new roof on the church, costing $112, which amount was paid out of the treasury, and still a neat sum remains.

After a pleasant social hour the meeting adjourned to meet the second Thursday in December at the home of Mrs. R. D. Dupre, on Main street.

Everyone, whether members of the society or not, is cordially invited to attend these meetings.

Cartoonist After Quail

Edgar Schilder, cartoonist on the Indianapolis Star, has put away the pen long enough to come to Ohio and visit relatives and friends in Chillicothe and Portsmouth and to take a shot at the festive and much-desired Bob White. Mr. Schilder is congenially located in the Hoosier Capital and is turning out some very fine work. He has broken into the magazine field and a number of his best cartoons are extensively copied. He is being warmly greeted by his old friends.

ROY GORDON DINES WITH CHINESE

Members of "The Yellow Jacket" company, now playing in New York, were banqueted this week by leading Chinese merchants in the metropolis.

Mr. Roy Gordon who is a member of the company, writes friends that the feast was a magnificent affair and was held in Chinatown, with all the Chinese trimmings.

Wap Wook smoked a pipe with four yards of garden hose leading to the bowl. Ytori Spitlario served the tea daintily and Ching Flut and Woo Pee consumed the dope and kept the guests merry by their antics. Each guest on his departure was presented with a map of China and an extra injection of chop suey. Beat the tom-toms and search your pockets for laundry checks.

Crane To Be Seen In A Capital Drama

An engagement which carries with it the promise of a treat is announced for the Grand on Tuesday, November 19, when William H. Crane will be seen here in his latest undertaking. This is the comedy, "The Senator Keeps House," which was written for his use by Martha Morton.

The story first of all provides the star with a congenial role and is one of those home-like and charming presentations which have so long been expected of Mr. Crane, and which he has had the continued good fortune to be able to supply. They are always entertaining and well worth while and there is a sincerity and warmth in the Crane art which infuses a subtle something into one of his productions to set them apart and make them distinctive without being in any sense exceptional.

Mr. Crane's present vehicle has been proven. It ran for four months at the Garrick theatre, New York City, last season and was voted one of the best offerings of an exceptionally brilliant season in the metropolis. Though the action is centered in Washington and there is a political flavor in the story, it has nothing to do with politics in a broader sense, and is, if anything, more a domestic incident framed by the larger affairs of state. Mr. Crane is seen as a U. S. Senator, a character that he previously made entirely his own.

Mr. Hiram Steele, 628 North Sixth street, Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "I came down with a severe case of kidney trouble. I had to get up too often at night, there was pain and much sediment, puffs under my eyes, back pained terribly, and I was dizzy. Foley Kidney Pills cured me quickly and I feel 100 per cent better." For sale by The Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, Sixth and Chillicothe streets.
